Paraders To Show New Bonnets, Frocks

Millions In U.S. Prepare To Mark Glory Of Easter

By The Associated Press

Atop mountains and in glens, in the open or within the confines of amphitheaters and churches, Americans will celebrate Easter by the millions.

Most of them will mark the holiday in churches but many also will take part in traditional public observances.

Of course the day will bring out paraders in new bonnets and frocks, too, and the biggest gathering of these is on New York's Fifth Avenue.

One of the great outdoor observances will be the sunrise service in the Hollywood, Calif., Bowl. There some 20,000 persons are expected to hear a sermon by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, one of the 12 apostles of the Latter-Day Saints Church.

In Oklahoma's Wichita Mountains near Lawton, other thousands gather for a similar observance. Other dawn or predawn services are scheduled for Boston Protestants aboard the USS Constitution at a Naval dock there; for Moundsville, Ala., at the site of Indian mounds where early American tribes once gathered; for Indianapolis, 300 choristers will greet the sunrise in Monument Circle.

At Sierra Madre, Calif., the Youth for Christ movement will hold dawn services beneath a 45,000-square-foot canopy of Wisteria blossoms.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower are spending Easter weekend at their Gettysburg, Pa., farm. The traditional Easter egg roll on the White House lawn will be deferred to Monday.

In New York, Radio City Music Hall will be transformed by lighting and other stage effects into a giant cathedral for the Protestant Council's "The Glory of Easter" service.

In southern Illinois, there will be a nondenominational groundbreaking ceremony for a 111-foot

Mishap Near Slovan Fatal To 5 In Car

U.S. 40, Route 18 Accidents Happened Just 2 Hours Apart

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—An auto ran off a highway and smashed against a tree near the town of Slovan early today, killing all five occupants.

Two hours and 10 minutes earlier a headon collision on U.S. 40, a half mile east of Washington, killed two persons and injured five others.

Killed in the Slovan crash were Reymond Ayers Jr., 21; his wife, Mary, 20; their two children, Dolly, about 5, and Robert, about 8 months; and Ayers' sister, Hazel.

State police said the Ayers lived at 2483 West 5th St., Cleveland, Ohio, and apparently were returning home after visiting relatives in Shinstown, W. Va., where they formerly lived.

Officers said the car operated by Ayers failed to negotiate a sharp curve and ran off the highway and rammed against a tree. The car was demolished. The crash occurred about 2 a. m. on Route 18, about 16 miles north of Washington.

The crash east of Washington claimed the lives of Walter W. Boswell, 56, chief deputy recorder of deeds for Washington (Pa.) County, and Miss Geraldine Swead, 21, of 2774 East 120th St., Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Swead was a passenger in the auto driven by her mother, Stella, 41. Mrs. Swead suffered a leg fracture and other injuries.

Others hurt were Patty Swead, 17; Joe Ann Wojek, 21, of Wolfdale, Pa.; Boswell's nephew Harold R. Boswell, 43, of Washington, and Gerald Snyder, 18, also of Washington. All were admitted to Washington Hospital. The Washington crash happened only minutes before midnight.

TRAGEDY IN PENNSYLVANIA. Five members of one family, all from Cleveland, were killed early today when this car missed a curve on Route 18, near Slovan, Pa., and struck a tree. 2 Killed, 3 Injured In Turnpike Collision

DOWNINGTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A headon automobile collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near the Downingtown interchange Friday night killed two in one family and injured three others.

The father, Chief Warrant Officer Fred M. Templin, 48, and the two other children, Mary, 11, and James, 10, were taken to a hospital for treatment.

Templin was driving his family to its Milwaukee home for Easter from his post at Woodside, N. Y., when his westbound car went out of control, crossed a medial strip and collided with an eastbound car. Its driver, escaped injury.

Reds In Iraq Hit Kassem In New Pressure

Suggest Nasser's West 'Cat's Paw' In Bid To Force Break

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iraqi Communists are putting new pressure on Premier Abdel Karim Kassem to break with the Western Powers by suggesting Gamal Abdel Nasser is the West's "cats paw."

There were growing indications today that Gen. Kassem is being overridden in his "forget Nasser" campaign to check hotheads of his revolutionary regime.

The Iraqi Communist party organ Ittihad al Sahaab ignored this advice and declared the recent Mosul uprising should be looked upon as an imperialist reactionary one in which the President of the United Arab Republic "played the role of cats paw."

Kassem has publicly proclaimed a policy of positive neutrality and has given the impression he wants to keep friendly ties with the West, despite his increasing reliance on the Soviet Union for economic and military aid.

Baghdad newspapers said the government has taken over an American missionary hospital at

Pro-Communist Installed

Reds Claim Tibet Uprising Crushed

TOKYO (AP) — Red China claimed today it has smashed an uprising in Tibet and installed the Panchen Lama — pro-Communist rival of the rebellious Dalai Lama —as head of a new regime.

An order by Premier Chou En-lai abolished the Tibetan government nominally headed by the Dalai Lama. Peiping said the Dalai Lama "under duress by the rebels" tore up the treaty he signed in 1951 with Red China.

A broadcast by Peiping said the 23-year-old Dalai Lama had been abducted by rebels who rose against the Red Chinese overlords last week.

Peiping charged the rebels had been armed by supplies air-dropped by the Chinese Nationalists. The supplies included radio equipment.

The rebels attacked Lhasa on March 19 and were defeated in two days of battle, Peiping said. It listed rebel casualties at 4,000 captured. The Red Chinese troops seized 8,000 small arms, 81 machineguns, 27 mortars, 6 mountain guns and huge amounts of ammunition, the broadcast said.

Peiping carefully refrained from assailing the Dalai Lama, the living Buddha of Tibetans and the most popular man in the land of the Lamas.

The revolt was blamed on the "Tibetan local government and an upper strata reactionary clique" backed by imperialists.

Chou said the 21-year-old Panchen Lama will be chairman of a committee set up for what he called the Tibet Autonomous region. Committees in so - called self-governing regions of Red China take orders from Peiping.

But the broadcast made it clear that the Chinese Red military will be in charge. Peiping said a military control committee was set up in Lhasa Monday and other cities and areas had been placed under firm control of the Red army.

The Dalai Lama presumably is with the rugged Kampa tribesmen who have been in revolt against the Chinese Reds for three years.

Peiping radio in announcing the shakeup acknowledged for the first time the Tibetans had rebelled against their Red masters.

Chou's order emphasized that while the Dalai Lama is under "duress by the rebels" the Panchen Lama will act as "chairman of the preparatory committee for the Tibet Autonomous Region."

The elevation of the Panchen Lama to head a new regime had been expected. The Panchen Lama long ago threw in with the Chinese Communists.

When the Dalai Lama proved hard to handle after the Chinese Red invasion of 1950, there was much speculation that the Panchen Lama was being groomed by Peiping to take over in Tibet.

The Panchen Lama by tradition is the spiritual equal of the Dalai Lama. But he never has had political power.

The Panchen Lama and the Dalai Lama are supposed to be the incarnations of two great disciples of the 15th century holy man of Tibet, Tsong Ka Ba.

The Peiping broadcast indicated that the revolt was still in full swing.

The rebellion broke out nine days ago, Peiping said, with a general uprising in Lhasa against

$40,000 Fire Kills 9 Horses Near Palestine

23 Valuable Steers Saved; 65 Firemen Fight Blaze In Barn

EAST PALESTINE — Seven horses and two colts were killed in a $40,000 fire which destroyed a large barn on the Charles Wilson farm about four-tenths a mile north on Route 170 Friday night at 8.

Fire Chief Glenn Libert, who is continuing an investigation as to the cause of the fire, set the loss. He said there is a possibility of defective wiring or spontaneous combusion.

Wilson, who resides on an adjoining farm, lost another barn in a $35,000 blaze 18 months ago.

The loss was partially covered by insurance. Twenty-three prize steers and a valuable horse were saved by three men who arrived at the scene shortly after the fire started

They were John Taucher, 17, an East Palestine High School junior, Albert Forney of Unity and John Steinbinder, a tenant who resides in a house on the farm.

The 60-x-40-foot two-story frame building was destroyed in about two hours. Sixty-five firemen fought the blaze but were hampered by a limited water supply and high winds. The East Palestine, New Waterford, and Negley departments answered the call and a few volunteers were present from Enon Valley. Firemen remained at the scene all night to keep sparks from blowing around.

The nine horses were valued at $2,000. Two of the horses and the colts were owned by Kenneth E. Rukenbrod of East Palestine; a horse and a pony by Rudd Wilson, grandson of the owner, and Lloyd Seiter, the caretaker, Virginia Charlton and Tony Merwin of East Palestine, each lost a horse.

Woman Wins $15,000 For Bugging Case

A Hancock County Circuit Court jury—after about six hours deliberation—Friday night awarded Mrs. Adaline Roach of Chester $15,000 damages from William W. Harper, a Chester school teacher.

Mrs. Roach had asked $50,000 damages, charging invasion of privacy through use of a secret listening device installed in her Chester apartment three years ago.

The panel, which included three women, brought in the verdict last night at 9:07 Mrs. Roach was awarded $5,000 in compensatory damages and $10,000 in punitive damages.

It could not be learned whether Harper plans to appeal the verdict although his counsel moved last night to have the verdict set aside, contending the award was excessive.

The trial, which began last Monday in the New Cumberland court, was a rehearing of the alleged "bugging" case filed earlier by Mrs. Roach. The suit was overruled a year ago in Hancock County court but the West Virginia Supreme Court sent it back to the lower court after an appeal.

The jury began deliberations yesterday afternoon at 1:18 recessed for dinner at 5:45, and returned to the jury room at 7:30. Twice the panel asked aid from the court, once at 2:45 on clarification of testimony, and again at 5:44 for a dictionary.

Drive To Begin Wednesday

Thomas J. Doland Named Chairman Of Cancer Fund

Thomas J. Doland of the Doland Insurance Agency has been appointed city chairman for the annual fund drive of the Columbiana Cancer Society.

The drive will open Wednesday and continue through April.

Doland's appointment was made by Walter H. Hunston of East Palestine, county campaign chairman.

Terming the need "critical," Doland commented, "An accelerated program to increase cancer cures can succeed if given enough public support."

Plans for the campaign were outlined at a dinner Thursday in Lisbon. It will be directed from the county headquarters at 607½ Dresden Ave.

The nationwide drive is aimed again at teaching the public "the seven danger signals" of cancer and stressing the necessity of regular physical examinations to detect other symptoms recognized only by physicians, sponsors said.

Volunteers wishing to aid in the program may call FU 6-6622.

Besides Hunston and Doland, others attending the meeting were Mrs. Jayne Calhoun, Mrs. Mary Alice Rumberger. Mrs. Ernest Sturgis and Mrs. Jane Jolly; Atty. William Bush, chairman, and Mrs. Peggy Rawlings, Mrs. Dorothy McCreary, Mrs. Marjorie Dysert, Mrs. Betty McDowell and Mrs. Dorothy Katz, all of Wellsville; Louis Moushey, chairman, and Galen Greenisen, representing Granges, both of Salem; Howard Moore of East Palestine, Atty. John L. Hutson of Columbiana, Mayor Ralph Kennedy of Leetonia, William E. Hiscox of Lisbon, William Maple of Hanoverton, Mrs. William McCowin of Negley, Norman Wilhelm of New Waterford and Emmanuel Pike of Rogers.

Garrettsville Priest Named For St. Aloysius

Bishop Emmet Walsh of the Youngstown Diocese has announced the appointment of Fr. Carl A. Nicolay of Garrettsville as pastor of St. Aloysius church.

Fr. Nicolay is pastor of St. Ambrose church in the community near Ravenna.

He will succeed Fr. Robert G. Moorhead, who died Feb. 21.

Quebec Blaze Causes $8 Million Damage

BLACKPOOL, Que. (AP) — Flames whipped by high winds raced unchecked through a huge truck company warehouse in this Canada-United States border community early today. Firemen had stood by helplessly because no water was available.

No casualties were reported. Two watchmen employed by Maislin Brothers Transport Limited of Montreal ran to safety.

Driver Unhurt As Auto Wrecks On Rock Slide

A Chicago motorist's vehicle was demolished when it hit a rock slide on the Wellsville - East Liverpool super - road in one of two accidents investigated Friday by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Officers said the entire undercarriage and the front end and hood of a 1956 station wagon were destroyed when the vehicle driven by Joseph L. Lamana, 39, of Chicago hit the slide about 8:05 p.m. Lamana was not injured. He was traveling south.

Clarence Blair, 35, of Warren was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance when his dump truck hit the rear of a car driven by Ernest Leonard, 47, of Salem R. D. on Route 14 a mile north of Salem yesterday at 11:45 a. m.

'He Is Risen Indeed!'

Sunrise Events To Usher In Celebration Of Easter

By ROSE NUZZO

Church bells will ring out the joy of life renewed and East Liverpool district congregations will gather to give thanks for the Resurrection and promise of life everlasting Easter Sunday.

Numerous sunrise services will usher in the day of jubilation and the age - old story that "He is risen!" will be retold in traditional cantatas, hymns and sermons.

The observance will continue throughout the day, with some congregations holding principal services in the evening. Sunday Schools will also herald the joyous news first told when the tomb was found empty after the Crucifixion.

Sanctuaries will be decked with masses of palms, lilies and spring flowers, symbolic of the rebirth.

In keeping with a long established custom, the bell in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church will be rung at 5:30 a. m., announcing the dawn of another Easter day.

(Turn to Page 3, Column 5)

Easter Will Be Fair But Cold In Forenoon

Fair weather is promised for Easter but it will be cold in the forenoon and warmer in the afternoon.

Early risers bound for sunrise services will have to dress warmly as temperatures will dip to a sub-freezing 24 to 28 degrees.

The cold front developed Friday afternoon following a heavy rain and a thunder storm and a thick layer of clouds darkened the skies in an odd timing that coincided with the Biblical reference to the gloom that attended the Crucifixion. Dam 8 at Newell reported a frigid low of 22 degrees early today. Yesterday afternoon's high was 35. Today will be slightly warmer—40 to 44 degrees. The rain, which was followed by snow flurries totaled 0.24 inch of precipitation.

A-Sub Skate Again Proves Arctic Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nuclear submarine Skate is heading homeward today after dramatically proving that atomic subs can maneuver under Arctic ice within missile range of the Soviet Union any time of the year.

The Navy said the Skate had completed a 12-day voyage under the Polar ice cap—and in the process surfaced through relatively thin ice several times.

The 267-foot submarine surfaced 10 times during its 3,090 polar journey—either in open rifts in the ice or through thin spots in the ice pack. Once, on March 17, the Skate surfaced exactly at the North Pole.

The Skate, which made a similar trip last summer, is now headed for New London, Conn., the same base from which it departed several weeks ago. Until it arrives there April 6 full details of the voyage will not be known.

The Navy insisted the trip was a "scientific exploratory voyage" to obtain data on under-ice conditions in winter temperatures and to chart the bottom of the Artic Ocean.

All this, of course, is information that would be vital for wartime use of missile submarines, which are expected to join the fleet late next year.

Pittsburgh Blaze Causes $100,000 Loss

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — An old three-story manufacturing building burst into flames here Friday night and was destroyed in less than two hours.

The 267-foot submarine surfaced 10 times during its 3,090 polar journey—either in open rifts in the ice or through thin spots in the ice pack. Once, on March 17, the Skate surfaced exactly at the North Pole.

The Skate, which made a similar trip last summer, is now headed for New London, Conn., the same base from which it departed several weeks ago. Until it arrives there April 6 full details of the voyage will not be known.

The Navy insisted the trip was a "scientific exploratory voyage" to obtain data on under-ice conditions in winter temperatures and to chart the bottom of the Artic Ocean.

All this, of course, is information that would be vital for wartime use of missile submarines, which are expected to join the fleet late next year.

$40,000 Fire Kills 9 Horses Near Palestine

23 Valuable Steers Saved; 65 Firemen Fight Blaze In Barn

EAST PALESTINE — Seven horses and two colts were killed in a $40,000 fire which destroyed a large barn on the Charles Wilson farm about four-tenths a mile north on Route 170 Friday night at 8.

Fire Chief Glenn Libert, who is continuing an investigation as to the cause of the fire, set the loss. He said there is a possibility of defective wiring or spontaneous combusion.

Wilson, who resides on an adjoining farm, lost another barn in a $35,000 blaze 18 months ago.

The loss was partially covered by insurance. Twenty-three prize steers and a valuable horse were saved by three men who arrived at the scene shortly after the fire started

They were John Taucher, 17, an East Palestine High School junior, Albert Forney of Unity and John Steinbinder, a tenant who resides in a house on the farm.

The 60-x-40-foot two-story frame building was destroyed in about two hours. Sixty-five firemen fought the blaze but were hampered by a limited water supply and high winds. The East Palestine, New Waterford, and Negley departments answered the call and a few volunteers were present from Enon Valley. Firemen remained at the scene all night to keep sparks from blowing around.

The nine horses were valued at $2,000. Two of the horses and the colts were owned by Kenneth E. Rukenbrod of East Palestine; a horse and a pony by Rudd Wilson, grandson of the owner, and Lloyd Seiter, the caretaker, Virginia Charlton and Tony Merwin of East Palestine, each lost a horse.

Sunrise Events To Usher In Celebration Of Easter

By ROSE NUZZO

Church bells will ring out the joy of life renewed and East Liverpool district congregations will gather to give thanks for the Resurrection and promise of life everlasting Easter Sunday.

Numerous sunrise services will usher in the day of jubilation and the age - old story that "He is risen!" will be retold in traditional cantatas, hymns and sermons.

The observance will continue throughout the day, with some congregations holding principal services in the evening. Sunday Schools will also herald the joyous news first told when the tomb was found empty after the Crucifixion.

Sanctuaries will be decked with masses of palms, lilies and spring flowers, symbolic of the rebirth.

In keeping with a long established custom, the bell in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church will be rung at 5:30 a. m., announcing the dawn of another Easter day.

(Turn to Page 3, Column 5)

Easter Will Be Fair But Cold In Forenoon

Fair weather is promised for Easter but it will be cold in the forenoon and warmer in the afternoon.

Early risers bound for sunrise services will have to dress warmly as temperatures will dip to a sub-freezing 24 to 28 degrees.

The cold front developed Friday afternoon following a heavy rain and a thunder storm and a thick layer of clouds darkened the skies in an odd timing that coincided with the Biblical reference to the gloom that attended the Crucifixion. Dam 8 at Newell reported a frigid low of 22 degrees early today. Yesterday afternoon's high was 35. Today will be slightly warmer—40 to 44 degrees. The rain, which was followed by snow flurries totaled 0.24 inch of precipitation.

Pittsburgh Blaze Causes $100,000 Loss

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — An old three-story manufacturing building burst into flames here Friday night and was destroyed in less than two hours.

The blaze, fed by gas from a ruptured valve, quickly mushroomed. Fire Chief Stephen Adley guessed the loss at $100,000. A Cadillac was buried under the debris.

The building housed the original Cripsy Pizza Crust Co., the Edward Kiessling Co., a screen-process sign printing firm, and the Casey Manufacturing Co.

First End-Of-Month-Event Set

Banners To Identify Stores In Sale

Large, colorful banners will mark the display windows of participating stores for the first general End-of-the Month sale Tuesday, arranged by the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

Under plans approved recently by the merchants, an EOM sale will be held on the last Tuesday of each month. In the past, some stores have held individual end-of-the-month sales, but this will be the first staged as a group effort.

ELMA said participating stores will offer special bargains to tri-state area shoppers. The association said it hopes the EOM events will become regular features of the local merchandising calendar, just as the semi-annual Dollar Days have become fixtures each February and August.

The big banners will be used to help remind shoppers of each EOM sale. Printed on a yellow background, the letters are in black and red. Other members of Kerin's EOM committee are: George Mueller, H. T. Powers, Wendell H. Vodrey and George A. Shaw.

owned by Esther Murray, 13, who lives near the farm. The steers were taken out through a large sliding door. After two of them were started, the remainder followed. The horse did not want to leave. The steers then roamed over the countryside and were rounded up about midnight in a wooded area a half mile away.

The wind was blowing away from Steinbinder's house but tractors and other equipment had to be removed from sheds which were in path of the wind-whipped flames. Firemen kept wetting down the sheds and prevented them from catching fire.

Besides the horses, the loss included baled hay and straw worth $900; two farm wagons at $700 each; grain loading elevator, $400, and various miscellaneous articles other riding equipment.

The blaze started in the loft where the hay and grain were stored. Seiter said he had fed and watered the horses about 7 p. m. and checked everything before leaving.

Wilson purchased the farm about two years ago and is stripping the coal from the property.

Going Too Fast

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP) — A merchant here who put cider jugs on the street in front of his store found the product going too fast. The cider was moving faster than the cash register. To slow the movement down he ran a chain through the handle holes on the jugs.

Amara in southern Iraq to provide "equipment it presently lacks." The denomination of the hospital was not identified. The missionaries reportedly were compensated.

The Communists found an influential ally inside the Kassem regime in keeping alive the bitter feeling towards Nasser — and the West.

He is Col. Fadhil Abbas Mahdawi, president of the People's Court in Baghdad, which has been carrying out the purges. The Egyptian press has repeatedly implied he is under Communist influence.

Four Iraqi air force officers brought to court this week in the first trial arising out of the recent anti-Kassem uprising in Mosul are expected to be sentenced tonight.

AP correspondent Stan Carter said in a dispatch from Baghdad — through censorship — that witnesses emphasized links between the plotters and Nasser's United Arab Republic government.

"No evidence about Western involvement was presented," Carter said, "but Court President Mahdawi voiced the presumption that Nasser acted as an imperialist agent."

Area Marines Await Amphibious Exercises

$150 Of Liquor Taken

LISBON — Loot in the burglary of Monty's Tavern in Kensington Friday included three cases of whisky worth $150 and an undetermined amount of money from juke box, cigarette and pinball machines, John Criss, manager, told Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan. The burglary occurred sometime early yesterday morning, one of four during the night.

Wellsville And City Motorists Draw Fines

John W. Taylor, 34, of 304 Washington St., was fined $15 and costs for speeding. He was cited on Route 7 north of Steubenville March 20, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

George C. Tenaglia, 21, of 1006 Commerce St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs for passing without the assured clear distance. He was cited on Route 7 just below Wellsville following an accident Tuesday afternoon in which his car hit the rear of a truck.

Papers Boost Price

CLEVELAND (AP) — Effective Monday, the price of The Cleveland Plain Dealer on week-days will be 10 cents—a boost of three cents — and the home delivery price will be 50 cents a week, exclusive of Sunday. The Sunday Plain Dealer will remain at 25 cents a copy, either home delivered or on the news stands. Announcement of the price boost Friday night followed similar announcements from The Cleveland News and The Cleveland Press the two afternoon dailies here. The newspapers said increased costs necessitated the price boosts.

Sunrise Rites Will Be Held

The largest early morning service will be held at the Masonic Temple at 7:30 under the auspices of Pilgrim Commandery 55, Knights of Templars, of which Ernest McKenzie is commander.

The Rev. Russell E. Owens, pastor of the Grace United Presbyterian Church in East End, will be the speaker and will use the theme, "The Darkest Dawn."

The East Liverpool Choral Ensemble comprised of 33 members of the Senior Choir of the High School, will provide the music, under the direction of E. King Mathews. The selections will include "Cantade Domino" (Pitoni), "Glory Be To God"" (Rachmaninoff) and "Alleluia" (Hummel).

Churches of the area holding sunrise services include St. John's, St. Stephen's Episcopal, Second Church of Christ, First Church of God, Anderson Methodist, First Church of Christ, Calvary Methodist Church, Orchard Grove Community Methodist, Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist, Boyce Methodist, Longs Run United Presbyterian, LaCroft Church of the Nazarene, Pleasant Heights United Brethren In Christ, Calcutta United Presbyterian and Glenmoor United Presbyterian. Breakfast will follow in some.

At Wellsville, early services will be conducted at the Church of the Nazarene, First Christian, Second Presbyterian and First Presbyterian.

Chester churches planning dawn rites include the First Methodist, Westminster United Presbyterian, Free Methodist and First Christian.

In Catholic Churches of the area, an Easter vigil will begin at 10:30 tonight, preceding the Midnight Mass. The vigil will include the blessing of the paschal fire, the paschal candle and the baptismal water.

Masses will also be celebrated Easter morning. The noon Mass at St. Aloysius Church will not be heard tomorrow and the 5 p. m. Mass at St. Ann in East End will also be canceled.

Churches presenting cantatas at 7:30 p. m. include the First Church of the Nazarene, entitled "From Darkness To Light" (Lorenz); First Church of Christ, "No Greater Love" (Peterson), and the First United Presbyterian Church, "Halleluhah! What a Savior!" (Peterson).

Other special services throughout the day in many of the churches will include Communion and baptism. Appropriate Easter programs will be presented by many Sunday School groups.

Mamie Likes Violets; 'Cabbage Roses' Here

Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower plans to wear violets on her bonnet for the Easter parade Sunday—if the weather is nice. Her milliner said she selected a small off-face beret covered with tiny violets and moss green velvet trim.

"Cabbage roses" will be the favorite decoration for the East Liverpool Easter bonnets, according to local milliners, who said cloche style or large brim will be worn. Popular shades are island blue and cherry fiz.

The League of Mercy of the Salvation Army will extend Easter joy to the County Home and County Jail during the afternoon. A pageant, "The Victorious Christ," will be presented at the citadel at 7:45 p. m.

Wellsville Services Attract Crowd Of 350

About 350 attended the union Good Friday services at the Wellsville Evangelical United Brethren Church during the afternoon.

An offering of $19 was received to be used by the Wellsville Ministerial Association for community work.

60 Attend Community Service Held At Newell

The hour and one-half service was conducted by the Rev. Ellsworth D. Crispens of the host church, and the Rev. Ernest Steele of the Church of Christ. They discussed words spoken by Christ on the cross. Special music was presented.

Many Attend City's 2 Union Programs

Many worshipers attended the three - hour union Good Friday services at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and the Oakland Free Methodist Church yesterday afternoon.

They were sponsored by the East Liverpool Ministerial Association and the theme was the "Seven Last Words from the Cross."

125 At Chester Rites Held By Ministers

About 125 attended the union Good Friday services held at the Methodist Church in Chester last night.

Beaver Registration Deadline Is Monday

Beaver County voters who desire to change their voting registration for the May 9 primary must register by Monday, the registration office at Beaver, reported today.

The office in the Courthouse will be open from 9:30 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Last November, 81,885 voters were registered for the Nov. 4 general election. Democrats numbered 42,228, Republicans 38,943 and other parties, 714.

In January, 3,906 names of voters were taken from the lists since they had not voted in two years. Some 2,847 were reinstated and 6,059 failed to answer notices, the office said.

For Once He Knew It Was Real Bargain

DERBY, Colo. (AP) — For once in his life, Joe Gallegos knew he was getting a good buy when a young man offered him a jacket for $6.50 and a glass of beer.

It was Gallegos' jacket. He told police someone had broken into his car and stolen the jacket. Police arrested the young man and charged him with the theft.

Tibet

Peiping Radio said the Tibetan local army "launched a general offensive against the people's liberation army garrison in Lhasa."

The Dalai Lama's leading advisers among the monks were blamed for masterminding the revolt that broke out in Lhasa.

There have been reports that the rebellion has spread to every corner of the mountain plateau.

Reports reaching Darjeeling, India on the Tibetan frontier said that the freedom fighters had set up a resistance government under the Dalai Lama in the south.

The Communists were believed to have complete control of Lhasa and most of the important Tibetan towns but not the general countryside.

The fighting in the capital was heavy, according to reports in Darjeeling, with estimates that up to 5,000 Tibetans had been killed. The Communists — according to this unverifiable report—spent two days burning their bodies.

The delegation declined to discuss contents of a petition, but the Tibetans were expected to ask Nehru to mediate with Peiping to restore self-government to Tibet.

In Taipei, Formosa, the Chinese Nationalists elaborated on Vice President Chen Cheng's statement Thursday that the Tibetan rebels had cut the two main Chinese Communist lifelines from Lhasa to China proper.

A statement said the rebels control areas around Lhasa and the Chinese Communists in Lhasa had to depend on airdrops for supplies. The report assertedly was based on reports from underground contacts in Tibet.

One of the highways links Tsinghai province in the north with Lhasa. The other joins the city with Sikang province in the east.

In Tokyo, the Maharaja Kumar of Sikkim reiterated his belief that the Dalai Lama, Tibet's god-king, has probably found refuge high in the Himalayas with the anti-Communist Khampa tribesmen.

The crown prince of the tiny mountainous state bordering Tibet said he did not know the fate of the 23-year-old living Buddha, but that the Dalai Lama has had ample time to reach rebel Khampa lines over secret routes known only to his followers. The Khampas reportedly started last week's revolt.

The Maharaja said the Chinese have never secured their hold on Tibet, "but there is little one can do against them in the long run." It is believed the Communists hold a narrow strip of Tibet from Lhasa to the Chinese border some 100 air miles eastward.

Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

owned by Esther Murray, 13, who lives near the farm. The steers were taken out through a large sliding door. After two of them were started, the remainder followed. The horse did not want to leave. The steers then roamed over the countryside and were rounded up about midnight in a wooded area a half mile away.

The wind was blowing away from Steinbinder's house but tractors and other equipment had to be removed from sheds which were in path of the wind-whipped flames. Firemen kept wetting down the sheds and prevented them from catching fire.

Besides the horses, the loss included baled hay and straw worth $900; two farm wagons at $700 each; grain loading elevator, $400, and various miscellaneous articles other riding equipment.

The blaze started in the loft where the hay and grain were stored. Seiter said he had fed and watered the horses about 7 p. m. and checked everything before leaving.

Wilson purchased the farm about two years ago and is stripping the coal from the property.

Going Too Fast

The Communists found an influential ally inside the Kassem regime in keeping alive the bitter feeling towards Nasser — and the West.

He is Col. Fadhil Abbas Mahdawi, president of the People's Court in Baghdad, which has been carrying out the purges. The Egyptian press has repeatedly implied he is under Communist influence.

Four Iraqi air force officers brought to court this week in the first trial arising out of the recent anti-Kassem uprising in Mosul are expected to be sentenced tonight.

AP correspondent Stan Carter said in a dispatch from Baghdad — through censorship — that witnesses emphasized links between the plotters and Nasser's United Arab Republic government.

"No evidence about Western involvement was presented," Carter said, "but Court President Mahdawi voiced the presumption that Nasser acted as an imperialist agent."

Area Marines Await Amphibious Exercises

Marines Pfc. Floyd Beatty of near Wellsville and Pfc. Elmer Freeman of near Salineville are slated to make a landing on the beaches of Camp Pendleton in Southern California Wednesday as part of a Marine amphibious exercise.

Wellsville And City Motorists Draw Fines

John W. Taylor, 34, of 304 Washington St., was fined $15 and costs for speeding. He was cited on Route 7 north of Steubenville March 20, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

George C. Tenaglia, 21, of 1006 Commerce St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs for passing without the assured clear distance. He was cited on Route 7 just below Wellsville following an accident Tuesday afternoon in which his car hit the rear of a truck.

Papers Boost Price

CLEVELAND (AP) — Effective Monday, the price of The Cleveland Plain Dealer on week-days will be 10 cents—a boost of three cents — and the home delivery price will be 50 cents a week, exclusive of Sunday. The Sunday Plain Dealer will remain at 25 cents a copy, either home delivered or on the news stands. Announcement of the price boost Friday night followed similar announcements from The Cleveland News and The Cleveland Press the two afternoon dailies here. The newspapers said increased costs necessitated the price boosts.

Sunrise Rites Will Be Held

The largest early morning service will be held at the Masonic Temple at 7:30 under the auspices of Pilgrim Commandery 55, Knights of Templars, of which Ernest McKenzie is commander.

The Rev. Russell E. Owens, pastor of the Grace United Presbyterian Church in East End, will be the speaker and will use the theme, "The Darkest Dawn."

The East Liverpool Choral Ensemble comprised of 33 members of the Senior Choir of the High School, will provide the music, under the direction of E. King Mathews. The selections will include "Cantade Domino" (Pitoni), "Glory Be To God"" (Rachmaninoff) and "Alleluia" (Hummel).

Churches of the area holding sunrise services include St. John's, St. Stephen's Episcopal, Second Church of Christ, First Church of God, Anderson Methodist, First Church of Christ, Calvary Methodist Church, Orchard Grove Community Methodist, Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist, Boyce Methodist, Longs Run United Presbyterian, LaCroft Church of the Nazarene, Pleasant Heights United Brethren In Christ, Calcutta United Presbyterian and Glenmoor United Presbyterian. Breakfast will follow in some.

At Wellsville, early services will be conducted at the Church of the Nazarene, First Christian, Second Presbyterian and First Presbyterian.

Chester churches planning dawn rites include the First Methodist, Westminster United Presbyterian, Free Methodist and First Christian.

In Catholic Churches of the area, an Easter vigil will begin at 10:30 tonight, preceding the Midnight Mass. The vigil will include the blessing of the paschal fire, the paschal candle and the baptismal water.

Masses will also be celebrated Easter morning. The noon Mass at St. Aloysius Church will not be heard tomorrow and the 5 p. m. Mass at St. Ann in East End will also be canceled.

Churches presenting cantatas at 7:30 p. m. include the First Church of the Nazarene, entitled "From Darkness To Light" (Lorenz); First Church of Christ, "No Greater Love" (Peterson), and the First United Presbyterian Church, "Halleluhah! What a Savior!" (Peterson).

Other special services throughout the day in many of the churches will include Communion and baptism. Appropriate Easter programs will be presented by many Sunday School groups.

Mamie Likes Violets; 'Cabbage Roses' Here

Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower plans to wear violets on her bonnet for the Easter parade Sunday—if the weather is nice. Her milliner said she selected a small off-face beret covered with tiny violets and moss green velvet trim.

"Cabbage roses" will be the favorite decoration for the East Liverpool Easter bonnets, according to local milliners, who said cloche style or large brim will be worn. Popular shades are island blue and cherry fiz.

The League of Mercy of the Salvation Army will extend Easter joy to the County Home and County Jail during the afternoon. A pageant, "The Victorious Christ," will be presented at the citadel at 7:45 p. m.

Wellsville Services Attract Crowd Of 350

About 350 attended the union Good Friday services at the Wellsville Evangelical United Brethren Church during the afternoon.

An offering of $19 was received to be used by the Wellsville Ministerial Association for community work.

60 Attend Community Service Held At Newell

The hour and one-half service was conducted by the Rev. Ellsworth D. Crispens of the host church, and the Rev. Ernest Steele of the Church of Christ. They discussed words spoken by Christ on the cross. Special music was presented.

Many Attend City's 2 Union Programs

Many worshipers attended the three - hour union Good Friday services at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and the Oakland Free Methodist Church yesterday afternoon.

They were sponsored by the East Liverpool Ministerial Association and the theme was the "Seven Last Words from the Cross."

125 At Chester Rites Held By Ministers

About 125 attended the union Good Friday services held at the Methodist Church in Chester last night.

Beaver Registration Deadline Is Monday

Beaver County voters who desire to change their voting registration for the May 9 primary must register by Monday, the registration office at Beaver, reported today.

The office in the Courthouse will be open from 9:30 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Last November, 81,885 voters were registered for the Nov. 4 general election. Democrats numbered 42,223, Republicans 38,943 and other parties, 714.

In January, 3,906 names of voters were taken from the lists since they had not voted in two years. Some 2,847 were reinstated and 6,059 failed to answer notices, the office said.

Tibet

Peiping Radio said the Tibetan local army "launched a general offensive against the people's liberation army garrison in Lhasa."

The Dalai Lama's leading advisers among the monks were blamed for masterminding the revolt that broke out in Lhasa.

There have been reports that the rebellion has spread to every corner of the mountain plateau.

Reports reaching Darjeeling, India on the Tibetan frontier said that the freedom fighters had set up a resistance government under the Dalai Lama in the south.

The Communists were believed to have complete control of Lhasa and most of the important Tibetan towns but not the general countryside.

The fighting in the capital was heavy, according to reports in Darjeeling, with estimates that up to 5,000 Tibetans had been killed. The Communists — according to this unverifiable report—spent two days burning their bodies.

The delegation declined to discuss contents of a petition, but the Tibetans were expected to ask Nehru to mediate with Peiping to restore self-government to Tibet.

In Taipei, Formosa, the Chinese Nationalists elaborated on Vice President Chen Cheng's statement Thursday that the Tibetan rebels had cut the two main Chinese Communist lifelines from Lhasa to China proper.

A statement said the rebels control areas around Lhasa and the Chinese Communists in Lhasa had to depend on airdrops for supplies. The report assertedly was based on reports from underground contacts in Tibet.

One of the highways links Tsinghai province in the north with Lhasa. The other joins the city with Sikang province in the east.

In Tokyo, the Maharaja Kumar of Sikkim reiterated his belief that the Dalai Lama, Tibet's god-king, has probably found refuge high in the Himalayas with the anti-Communist Khampa tribesmen.

The crown prince of the tiny mountainous state bordering Tibet said he did not know the fate of the 23-year-old living Buddha, but that the Dalai Lama has had ample time to reach rebel Khampa lines over secret routes known only to his followers. The Khampas reportedly started last week's revolt.

The Maharaja said the Chinese have never secured their hold on Tibet, "but there is little one can do against them in the long run." It is believed the Communists hold a narrow strip of Tibet from Lhasa to the Chinese border some 100 air miles eastward.

Easter: Festival Of Redemption

The observance of Easter in its Christian context was slow in getting started.

It was complicated, moreover, by the disputes that were resolved finally by the formula for fixing a movable Easter date.

But even had there been a hundred times as many complications and uncertainties, Easter would have been celebrated in the Christian era as it had been celebrated before that by pagans.

It is one of the natural holidays. The other is Christmas, which also developed a Christian context after countless generations of pre-Christian observance as the holiday marking the winter solstice in the Northern Hemisphere.

Easter is the festival of redemption. The great meanings that were added to it by the miracle of Christianity have made it the most cherished religious occasion of the year.

Everything in nature conspires to make it meaningful — the first flowers of springtime, the return of the sun that dispels the gloom of winter, the beginnings and the flutterings of new life everywhere.

Even when Easter falls unseasonably early, as it does this year, there still has been time for the stage to be set. The promise of redemption has been symbolized by the miracles of fields and gardens, by birds that have returned and lambs that have been born. Life is eternal.

There will be only nine more March Easters in this century — the next one in 1964, the last one in 1997. In 2000, Easter will fall on April 23, one of two times in the 20th century. The other time was in 1905. The only date on which Easter fell that was later than April 23 was in 1943, when it did not happen until April 25.

The Functionaries Had Better Be Good

Between now and May 11, there will be a chance for the United States, Britain and France to do something about the hurtful impression that the Soviet Union has the "fastest gun" in diplomacy.

If they can get together on an agenda for the foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva on May 11, they can beat the Kremlin to the draw in what apparently is going to be a warmup for a summit meeting at some later date.

By accepting the idea of a summit meeting in theory but not in fact and by making it conditional on the outcome of a foreign ministers' meeting, the three Western Allies have put the responsibility for success on Russia.

If Premier Khrushchev has been in earnest all this time about a summit meeting—and he began to agitate for it in the closing days of 1957—he must put up or shut up when the foreign ministers meet.

If they can agree on nothing, there will be nothing to agree on at a summit meeting. No time will be wasted talking about a meeting that will not be held and will not be worth holding.

The Western Allies must be prepared on May 11 to give their wartime ally something substantial to agree to if Khrushchev really wants to meet face to face with President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan and President DeGaulle.

Anything that would confront Andrei Gromyko at Geneva with no choice but to say no would have a bad effect in the three Western countries.

Khrushchev may have been wrong in reopening the issue of Berlin and a divided Germany, but now that it's open there is no way to close it, except through negotiation. The people who stand behind the governments of the Western Allies do not want to be made to feel that they failed to demand a settlement of World War II in Germany.

If popular opinion in the West is the basis for a settlement, as observers have been pointing out in their concern lest the people fail to show a high degree of interest in the issue, there must be a crystallization of opinion before May 11, too.

The foreign ministers and their governments must have no doubts about the popular will. They will need to know whether the West is ready for a major war over Russia's threat to make East Germany responsible for all the territory surrounding Berlin. They will need to know whether the people who would do the fighting and the dying are in a mood to fight and die about Berlin.

Khrushchev is known to have no confidence in foreign ministers, because they are only "functionaries" who cannot negotiate at the highest level; that is why he has been asking for a summit meeting. But by making the summit meeting turn on the success of the foreign ministers meeting, the Western Allies have turned the tables on their Moscow gadfly. The "functionaries" had better be good next May — all of them.

No Summit In Sight At Sochi

Without poring over a map, no one in this part of the world could locate Sochi, a Black Sea resort, where Premier Khrushchev and Secretary General Hammarskjold of the United Nations have been talking to each other.

There is no pressure on Khrushchev to make a chump out of Hammarskjold. Nor is there any pressure on Hammarskjold to prove he is too agile to be pinned down by Khrushchev.

The press, television and radio are not there to record each burp and bumble of the conversing statesmen. No one knows or care what Hammarskjold wore when he showed up for the meeting, or whether Khrushchev snubbed him by having a tooth filled instead of keeping an appointment.

It is of no interest how much vodka was guzzled, or who flitted around in the background. No one cares what the two men looked like before and after each session—whether they scowled or smiled.

In all probability, Hammarskjold, who is a mild-appearing man of slight stature, could walk up and down the streets of Sochi and not even be stared at by the natives. And Khrushchev, if it suited him, could have the place to himself by merely giving an order.

Sochi is an ideal setting for a meeting to smooth out some of the ruffled feathers of international diplomacy. Secretary Hammarskjold cannot perform miracles, but he is the only man in the world who has made a career of smoothing ruffled feathers. Moreover, he gets paid for it on the basis of his competence, not because he is in a favored position.

It is just barely possible he may be able to do more at Sochi than is likely to be done in any of the full-dress meetings that will be turned into wrestling contests to see who can pin whose shoulders to the mat while the whole world watches breathlessly, awaiting the outcome of a battle of prestige.

A cocktail party discussion of our discovery of radiation band around the world and trapped electrons:

"What do you think of this Argus situation?"

"They'll make him testify one way or another."

"I tried all them belts. If you got arthritis you got it, that's all."

"I'm talking about the scientific project which trapped electrons in outer space."

"You don't follow me. We ran rockets into trapped electrons to see the effect on mitahls. I mean missiles. Have a rye on the rocks?"

"No. I can trap measles . . . mussels. . . sorry, I mean thistles . . . better on martinis. Three parts gin, one vermouth and every warhead is exploded."

"Yeah (hic) but the fallout is too heavy. Have a pimento sandwich?"

"Know something? I always say if you make a better electron tripe — beg pardon — trap than any other man, the world will make a path to your door."

"I'm an old suspender man myself. Especially in outer space. It's all so confusing."

"Didn't you read the explanation of the whole thing by Mike Quill — I mean Donald Quarles — and all them scientists?"

"No. I was confused enough."

"Berle, Hope and Benny will get through someway, warheads or not. Shay, Argus, what's your lastn ame?"

"Who?"

"How should I know?"

The South Is Being Invaded

MEMPHIS

We're considerably down river here from Harry Truman. But his "give-em-hell" technique has been packaged. And now it is being unwrapped regularly by a barnstorming troupe of union politicians — who stopped by here a few days ago in an early start to get a Democrat back into the White House. From here they're fiording the old Mississippi in their invasion of one of their last frontiers — namely Sen. Barry Goldwater's Arizona.

Victor Riesel

They'll set up shop in Phoenix on April 5 just as they did here at the Hotel Chisca last Monday and Tuesday.

For two days several hundred regional labor leaders listened to some sage advice from Jim McDevitt, director of the Washington office of the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE). The listeners were from Arkansas and Tennessee. Beating the Republicans will not exactly require the advice of Prince Machiavelli.

THE BOYS are more interested in convincing certain powerful Southern Democratic leaders that COPE is worth listening to — especially at the Democratic National Convention next year. That's why the official political carte de jour described this regional rally thus: "Delegates will consider in detail COPE's local organization and procedures, registration, education, communication, campaign strategy, fund raising, appraisal of candidates and specific local, district and state problems."

Though this two-day conference appeared to be mostly a waltz between Democratic and labor partners who showed little signs of changing, the sessions were noted by some mighty curious Republicans. Not the least interested were some of the GOP members of the Senate Select Committee on Improper Activities in the Labor or Management Field.

These men want the McClellan committee to probe labor's political spending. They have been caucusing. They have decided to make a fight for such an investigation. They have set a deadline for action. They are saying that they want such a probe to open within 30 days or at least be announced within that time.

THE REPUBLICANS will say publicly that the committee had agreed 18 months ago to look into 11 areas. One of these is labor's political expenditures.

They argue that dues money is being spent illegally on politics and candidates. Some of the GOP strategists will point out that some of the union funds are spent indirectly — such as the COPE sessions here.

Republican arguments will contend that the men who attended the COPE rally here — and who will attend another 15 shortly — are on the regular payroll of many unions and their central councils.

The GOP contention is that thousands of labor officials couldn't spend their time, their cars, their gasoline, their phones, their headquarters and there assistants on politics if the money did not come from union treasuries originally in the form of salaries and expense accounts.

One Republican will charge that there is one major union — not the United Auto Workers — in Washington which has created a central political action field.

In it are cards for each congressman supported by the national union. On each card is listed the money spent, the man hours, the car pools, the phone calls, the baby sitters and the leaflets used during the recent campaign.

Thus, when the union wants to lobby for one of its favorite bills, it can send its legislative representative up The Hill with specific data on what was spent in dollars and energy to elect the congressman. This may have little effect. Yet it could be persuasive.

Democratic leaders argue, however, that this procedure is no different than lobbying since the day George Washington's stationery was first printed. The labor people are just more scientific, that's all.

The clash will come as the COPE caravan heads west into the sun and the Republicans see red.

Waiting For The Grass

By Truman Twill

I am fighting with all the caution and restraint at my command a vernal impulse to take apart a lawnmower as part of a summer preparedness program.

Caution and restraint rise from past experience. I have taken apart a lawnmower to get it ready for summer every spring since I became a householder.

It is a carryover from a boyhood impulse to take things apart to see if I could put them back together. Experience has taught me my aptitude for understanding the design and function of machinery is a blank.

Invariably, in the course of putting the thing back together after I have cleaned its bits and pieces I put something in backward. This is not discovered until the time comes to use it, and then the whole job must be done over post-haste.

Last spring when the crocuses appeared, I took apart a cart that hitches on behind the garden tractor. The lawnmower last year was turned over to an expert, who took it apart and put it back together to the tune of $50, which gives a mechanical misfit some idea what value an expert puts on his knowledge of worn-out parts.

The cart seemed to be something any fool could take apart and put back together . . . well, almost any fool. Naturally, while it was apart it had to be painted, and when it was reassembled it was a thing of beauty.

Then came the day when there was something to be moved in the cart. When it was hitched to the tractor — and only them — it was evident that the steel tube that is bent a certain way to make the cart level had been put in upside down. The cart was tilted at a 30-degree angle.

By the time the thing had been taken apart, the fresh paint was in sad condition, and when it had been put back together the paint job was ruined.

That is why I am fighting against the impulse to take apart the lawn mower. It needs to be cleaned up and greased. It needs to be adjusted. It could do with a paint job, and the carburetor and fuel lines should be inspected and made shipshape.

But it is no job for a muddlehead. That is plain.

The lawnmower has been brought into the basement. A can of grease has been obtained and fresh oil. There is enough paint left over from the cart to do a bang-up paint job. All the wrenches and screw drivers, including the ones for those criss-cross screws they use these days, have been found.

But only a nincompoop would monkey with something beyond his comprehension. Even those two little pieces of metal in a lawnmower's wheels that make the reel move when the engine is pushing the mower are more than a booby can master. This booby never gets them in the right way the first time; he always has to turn them around later when the lawnmower will only run backward.

If there are only two ways to do a thing — one right and one wrong — this booby invariably does it wrong. It should be 50-50 in a free choice, but it never works that way.

In short, tonight's the night I disregard caution and restraint and take apart the lawnmower for its annual reconditioning. A fellow has to do something while waiting for the grass to grow.

Khrushchev's Motive

Why Does Red Leader Want Summit Talk?

The news dispatches are full of comments from all over the world about the proposed summit conference — yet the big mystery seems somehow to go unsolved. For what is still unexplained is Khrushchev's real reason for wanting such a meeting.

David Lawrence

Everybody knows that at a week's conference at the summit — virtually under klieg lights and with scores of aides, stenographers and language interpreters around — there isn't much chance for intimate conversation by the heads of the four governments concerned.

Everybody knows also that, if the Soviet government really has something to say about a proposal it wants to accept or reject, there is no need for a summit conference to be held just to get it on the record. This can be done any time through foreign ministers' conferences or through an exchange of written notes at the various foreign offices. The press will always give the widest publicity to any important pronouncement.

WHAT, THEN, is the motivation behind Khrushchev's passion for a summit conference? This very question has puzzled high officials in the Western governments and they have talked about it recently among themselves.

Perhaps it is oversimplification to say that Khrushchev's egoism and desire for the limelight in the role of big boss of the Soviet Union may have been the basic influence behind the pressure for a summit meeting. But, as one observer put it, Khrushchev would like more than anything else in the world eventually to be invited to sleep at the White House.

One of Stalin's men — Molotov —did it during the Truman administration and the story goes that he slept in Lincoln's bed.

Those newmen who have been in Moscow say Khrushchev is effusive, ostentatious and vigorous and does a lot of talking — most of it tough. He has been stimulated by the achievement of the sputniks and it should not be forgotten that he was originally a poor miner and now has worked his way to the top spot in his country.

This kind of change from one environment to another sometimes produces a feeling of inferiority. Psychologists say it also gives rise to feelings of superiority — delusions of grandeur.

The Soviet dictator undoubtedly wants a big show. He wants it presumably because he thinks it will boost the prestige of Communism throughout the world in general and his own standing with his own countrymen in particular. Some Westerners really believe that in these days of trading back and forth or sparring for position, diplomatically speaking, there may be a point at which the Soviet chief would give a concession or two just to get the summit conference he wants.

FOR THIS REASON, it would appear that President Eisenhower is wise in not giving blanket approval to the idea of a summit conference. There is some mileage to be derived from trying first to get something out of the Soviets at the foreign ministers' conference in May.

It could be that Khrushchev would give a freer hand to Foreign Minister Gromyko at Geneva if he thinks it might pay off later in the form of an agreement to hold a summit conference. This whole theory sounds incredible but it is given credence in high quarters.

Oddly enough, prominent Westerners are saying out loud that one man — and nobody else in the Soviet government or parliament — speaks for the 200 million people of the Soviet Union and that he alone can make Soviet policy instantaneously at a summit conference without consulting anybody else in the Moscow government. What a powerful one-man dictatorship!

Actually, a summit conference is about the last place in the world for any negotiation of the give-and-take variety to be carried on. If the head of any government wants to make a concession, he would hardly like to do so in the limelight.

Plainly, Khrushchev has no intention of making any public surrender on positions he has taken. Also, with the many vital questions at stake, a week is a brief time in which to accomplish anything.

ON THIS POINT the following extract from Mr. Eisenhower's latest press conference is enlightening:

Q. Mr. President, what do you think of the idea of a series of summit conferences where the world leaders could get off in some secluded spot and discuss informally the problems of the world?

A. Well, it is rather difficult to visualize such a thing. If you meet with a group of world leaders, it is rather hard to keep the spotlight off of it. And if you are going to talk, doing this informally, it would be with batteries of interpreters and recorders and all that sort of thing. It would almost inevitably change, I think, into something rather formal."

So what is the purpose, after all, of "something rather formal"? Several newspapers in Britain regard the summit as enveloped with an aura of miracles and they resent Mr. Eisenhower's tendency to be realistic.

Indeed, the peoples of the free world are being urged to believe that a summit conference is a meeting where magic can bring about a sudden transition from the tensions of a cold war to the easy and comfortable existence of a world without tension.

All this, moreover, is to be done in a single week's meeting as millions of words are poured out endeavoring to prove that neither side is being defeated and that each side is winning a notable victory.

What a travesty on common sense and what a concession to the devices of modern propaganda battles and, above all else, to the consummate egoism of a dictator!

'Joltless' Retirement

By William Rapp

The United States Government, largest employer of labor in the country, is pioneering a new approach to retirement.

The groundwork is being laid at the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, operator of the nation's largest retirement program — the Social Security System.

HEW, which has 55,000 men and women on its payroll, has queried them on a plan which would allow retirement at 62 and immediate rehiring for a period of up to five years. The last five years would be spent on an increasingly shorter and less taxing work schedule.

Gradual retirement would be achieved by one of several methods currently under study by HEW, including: Increasingly longer vacations each year; a shorter work week; increasingly shorter work days; shift of responsibility to younger people and transfer to less demanding duties.

Behind the decision to mount a massive demonstration retirement program is the growing national loss of skilled manpower shunted to the economic sidelines by mandatory retirement plans in industry. The financial drain on the Social Security System would be slowed as retirement came later in life. The growing restiveness of older Americans toward a "life of idleness" would receive long overdue attention.

Individual disillusionment with retirement was highlighted in a recent study by Harry F. Johnson, president of the Life Extension Foundation. Nearly one-third of more than 1,500 retired factory workers, white collar employes and executives said they would like their old jobs back. Johnson also reported widespread "letdown" in industry among people only one or two years away from retirement — a slowdown serious enough to hamper "effective and profitable operation."

James C. O'Brien, personnel director of HEW, who heads the government pilot project, feels that management has much to gain "by having a reasonable time to train understudies and by being able to face up frankly to the wishes of many capable employes to be relieved of the pressure of full-time work" without quitting altogether.

Easter: Festival Of Redemption

The observance of Easter in its Christian context was slow in getting started.

It was complicated, moreover, by the disputes that were resolved finally by the formula for fixing a movable Easter date.

But even had there been a hundred times as many complications and uncertainties, Easter would have been celebrated in the Christian era as it had been celebrated before that by pagans.

It is one of the natural holidays. The other is Christmas, which also developed a Christian context after countless generations of pre-Christian observance as the holiday marking the winter solstice in the Northern Hemisphere.

Easter is the festival of redemption. The great meanings that were added to it by the miracle of Christianity have made it the most cherished religious occasion of the year.

Everything in nature conspires to make it meaningful — the first flowers of springtime, the return of the sun that dispels the gloom of winter, the beginnings and the flutterings of new life everywhere.

Even when Easter falls unseasonably early, as it does this year, there still has been time for the stage to be set. The promise of redemption has been symbolized by the miracles of fields and gardens, by birds that have returned and lambs that have been born. Life is eternal.

There will be only nine more March Easters in this century — the next one in 1964, the last one in 1997. In 2000, Easter will fall on April 23, one of two times in the 20th century. The other time was in 1905. The only date on which Easter fell that was later than April 23 was in 1943, when it did not happen until April 25.

The Functionaries Had Better Be Good

Between now and May 11, there will be a chance for the United States, Britain and France to do something about the hurtful impression that the Soviet Union has the "fastest gun" in diplomacy.

If they can get together on an agenda for the foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva on May 11, they can beat the Kremlin to the draw in what apparently is going to be a warmup for a summit meeting at some later date.

By accepting the idea of a summit meeting in theory but not in fact and by making it conditional on the outcome of a foreign ministers' meeting, the three Western Allies have put the responsibility for success on Russia.

If Premier Khrushchev has been in earnest all this time about a summit meeting—and he began to agitate for it in the closing days of 1957—he must put up or shut up when the foreign ministers meet.

If they can agree on nothing, there will be nothing to agree on at a summit meeting. No time will be wasted talking about a meeting that will not be held and will not be worth holding.

The Western Allies must be prepared on May 11 to give their wartime ally something substantial to agree to if Khrushchev really wants to meet face to face with President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan and President DeGaulle.

Anything that would confront Andrei Gromyko at Geneva with no choice but to say no would have a bad effect in the three Western countries.

Khrushchev may have been wrong in reopening the issue of Berlin and a divided Germany, but now that it's open there is no way to close it, except through negotiation. The people who stand behind the governments of the Western Allies do not want to be made to feel that they failed to demand a settlement of World War II in Germany.

If popular opinion in the West is the basis for a settlement, as observers have been pointing out in their concern lest the people fail to show a high degree of interest in the issue, there must be a crystallization of opinion before May 11, too.

The foreign ministers and their governments must have no doubts about the popular will. They will need to know whether the West is ready for a major war over Russia's threat to make East Germany responsible for all the territory surrounding Berlin. They will need to know whether the people who would do the fighting and the dying are in a mood to fight and die about Berlin.

Khrushchev is known to have no confidence in foreign ministers, because they are only "functionaries" who cannot negotiate at the highest level; that is why he has been asking for a summit meeting. But by making the summit meeting turn on the success of the foreign ministers meeting, the Western Allies have turned the tables on their Moscow gadfly. The "functionaries" had better be good next May — all of them.

No Summit In Sight At Sochi

Without poring over a map, no one in this part of the world could locate Sochi, a Black Sea resort, where Premier Khrushchev and Secretary General Hammarskjold of the United Nations have been talking to each other.

There is no summit in sight at Sochi.

There is no pressure on Khrushchev to make a chump out of Hammarskjold. Nor is there any pressure on Hammarskjold to prove he is too agile to be pinned down by Khrushchev.

The press, television and radio are not there to record each burp and bumble of the conversing statesmen. No one knows or care what Hammarskjold wore when he showed up for the meeting, or whether Khrushchev snubbed him by having a tooth filled instead of keeping an appointment.

It is of no interest how much vodka was guzzled, or who flitted around in the background. No one cares what the two men looked like before and after each session—whether they scowled or smiled.

In all probability, Hammarskjold, who is a mild-appearing man of slight stature, could walk up and down the streets of Sochi and not even be stared at by the natives. And Khrushchev, if it suited him, could have the place to himself by merely giving an order.

Sochi is an ideal setting for a meeting to smooth out some of the ruffled feathers of international diplomacy. Secretary Hammarskjold cannot perform miracles, but he is the only man in the world who has made a career of smoothing ruffled feathers. Moreover, he gets paid for it on the basis of his competence, not because he is in a favored position.

It is just barely possible he may be able to do more at Sochi than is likely to be done in any of the full-dress meetings that will be turned into wrestling contests to see who can pin whose shoulders to the mat while the whole world watches breathlessly, awaiting the outcome of a battle of prestige.

The Once Over

"They'll make him testify one way or another."

"I meant Project Argus, which ran the experiments in global radiation belts."

"I tried all them belts. If you got arthritis you got it, that's all."

"I'm talking about the scientific project which trapped electrons in outer space."

"No. I can trap measles . . . mussels. . . sorry, I mean thistles . . . better on martinis. Three parts gin, one vermouth and every warhead is exploded."

"Yeah (hic) but the fallout is too heavy. Have a pimento sandwich?"

"Know something? I always say if you make a better electron tripe — beg pardon — trap than any other man, the world will make a path to your door."

"I'm an old suspender man myself. Especially in outer space. It's all so confusing."

"Didn't you read the explanation of the whole thing by Mike Quill — I mean Donald Quarles — and all them scientists?"

"No. I was confused enough."

"Berle, Hope and Benny will get through someway, warheads or not. Shay, Argus, what's your lastn ame?"

"Who?"

"How should I know?"

We're considerably down river here from Harry Truman. But his "give-em-hell" technique has been packaged. And now it is being unwrapped regularly by a barnstorming troupe of union politicians — who stopped by here a few days ago in an early start to get a Democrat back into the White House. From here they're fiording the old Mississippi in their invasion of one of their last frontiers — namely Sen. Barry Goldwater's Arizona.

Victor Riesel

They'll set up shop in Phoenix on April 5 just as they did here at the Hotel Chisca last Monday and Tuesday.

For two days several hundred regional labor leaders listened to some sage advice from Jim McDevitt, director of the Washington office of the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE). The listeners were from Arkansas and Tennessee. Beating the Republicans will not exactly require the advice of Prince Machiavelli.

THE BOYS are more interested in convincing certain powerful Southern Democratic leaders that COPE is worth listening to — especially at the Democratic National Convention next year. That's why the official political carte de jour described this regional rally thus: "Delegates will consider in detail COPE's local organization and procedures, registration, education, communication, campaign strategy, fund raising, appraisal of candidates and specific local, district and state problems."

Though this two-day conference appeared to be mostly a waltz between Democratic and labor partners who showed little signs of changing, the sessions were noted by some mighty curious Republicans. Not the least interested were some of the GOP members of the Senate Select Committee on Improper Activities in the Labor or Management Field.

These men want the McClellan committee to probe labor's political spending. They have been caucusing. They have decided to make a fight for such an investigation. They have set a deadline for action. They are saying that they want such a probe to open within 30 days or at least be announced within that time.

THE REPUBLICANS will say publicly that the committee had agreed 18 months ago to look into 11 areas. One of these is labor's political expenditures.

They argue that dues money is being spent illegally on politics and candidates. Some of the GOP strategists will point out that some of the union funds are spent indirectly — such as the COPE sessions here.

Republican arguments will contend that the men who attended the COPE rally here — and who will attend another 15 shortly — are on the regular payroll of many unions and their central councils.

The GOP contention is that thousands of labor officials couldn't spend their time, their cars, their gasoline, their phones, their headquarters and there assistants on politics if the money did not come from union treasuries originally in the form of salaries and expense accounts.

One Republican will charge that there is one major union — not the United Auto Workers — in Washington which has created a central political action field.

In it are cards for each congressman supported by the national union. On each card is listed the money spent, the man hours, the car pools, the phone calls, the baby sitters and the leaflets used during the recent campaign.

Thus, when the union wants to lobby for one of its favorite bills, it can send its legislative representative up The Hill with specific data on what was spent in dollars and energy to elect the congressman. This may have little effect. Yet it could be persuasive.

Democratic leaders argue, however, that this procedure is no different than lobbying since the day George Washington's stationery was first printed. The labor people are just more scientific, that's all.

The clash will come as the COPE caravan heads west into the sun and the Republicans see red.

Waiting For The Grass

By Truman Twill

I am fighting with all the caution and restraint at my command a vernal impulse to take apart a lawnmower as part of a summer preparedness program.

Caution and restraint rise from past experience. I have taken apart a lawnmower to get it ready for summer every spring since I became a householder.

It is a carryover from a boyhood impulse to take things apart to see if I could put them back together. Experience has taught me my aptitude for understanding the design and function of machinery is a blank.

Invariably, in the course of putting the thing back together after I have cleaned its bits and pieces I put something in backward. This is not discovered until the time comes to use it, and then the whole job must be done over post-haste.

Last spring when the crocuses appeared, I took apart a cart that hitches on behind the garden tractor. The lawnmower last year was turned over to an expert, who took it apart and put it back together to the tune of $50, which gives a mechanical misfit some idea what value an expert puts on his knowledge of worn-out parts.

The cart seemed to be something any fool could take apart and put back together . . . well, almost any fool. Naturally, while it was apart it had to be painted, and when it was reassembled it was a thing of beauty.

Then came the day when there was something to be moved in the cart. When it was hitched to the tractor — and only them — it was evident that the steel tube that is bent a certain way to make the cart level had been put in upside down. The cart was tilted at a 30-degree angle.

By the time the thing had been taken apart, the fresh paint was in sad condition, and when it had been put back together the paint job was ruined.

That is why I am fighting against the impulse to take apart the lawn mower. It needs to be cleaned up and greased. It needs to be adjusted. It could do with a paint job, and the carburetor and fuel lines should be inspected and made shipshape.

But it is no job for a muddlehead. That is plain.

The lawnmower has been brought into the basement. A can of grease has been obtained and fresh oil. There is enough paint left over from the cart to do a bang-up paint job. All the wrenches and screw drivers, including the ones for those criss-cross screws they use these days, have been found.

But only a nincompoop would monkey with something beyond his comprehension. Even those two little pieces of metal in a lawnmower's wheels that make the reel move when the engine is pushing the mower are more than a booby can master. This booby never gets them in the right way the first time; he always has to turn them around later when the lawnmower will only run backward.

If there are only two ways to do a thing — one right and one wrong — this booby invariably does it wrong. It should be 50-50 in a free choice, but it never works that way.

In short, tonight's the night I disregard caution and restraint and take apart the lawnmower for its annual reconditioning. A fellow has to do something while waiting for the grass to grow.

Khrushchev's Motive

Midnight Mass Will Be Held For Catholics

Midnight Mass will be held in East Liverpool's Catholic Churches tonight to usher in the Eastern observances for the two parishes.

The Mass at St. Aloysius church will be preceded with a blessing service at 10:30, when the paschal fire, the paschal candle and the baptismal water will be blessed. Fr. Thomas Mulhearn and Fr. Anthony Esposito are assistant pastors.

The "Lumen Christie," or the paschal proclamation, will be changed during the solemn procession into the church, followed by the singing of the Exultet" by the deacon.

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

The Life That Did Not End

He was a country preacher who grew up in a small town. His people were not important folk; his father was a simple carpenter and his mother a village maiden. They were poor people; actually their son was born in a stable. He was born into troubled times. He was less than two weeks old when his parents had to flee the country. Quite a while passed before they could return and, even then, they had to live in a different town.

Dr. Peale

He grew up just as other boys did. Or, at least, we can guess this. All we really know about him is that he was an unusually bright child and that, when he was 12, in accordance with the custom of his religion, he was confirmed.

—:—

HE STAYED on in his home town for the next 17 years or so, living just as his friends and neighbors did. Perhaps he, too, was a carpenter. In any case, whatever he did during those years wasn't remarkable enough for anyone to take special note of.

Then, when he was almost 30, a wandering preacher, a cousin of his mother's named John, came to town, bearded and half-naked, living on what little he could find along the road. Nevertheless, John was a strong preacher and his words brought out everyone to hear him. The young carpenter came with all the rest and was baptized in the river by his cousin.

Somehow, that baptism changed him or brought him to a decision. He disappeared for almost two months. When he came back, he began to preach. He spent his next three years as a wandering preacher in the small towns and in the country. He attracted to him other poor men like himself: fishermen, sailors, farmers. Some of these traveled with him.

He was an amazing preacher with great winsomeness. And he soon became famous in the country, but this did not change his simple way of life. And when finally he decided to carry his mission to the big city, he entered it as a poor man among poor men.

HIS MISSION seemed a failure. In the end, the authorities manufactured the charge that what he preached was treason, and condemned him to death. Offered an opportunity to save him, the very crowds to which he had preached turned against him and urged that another be freed instead.

Soldiers took him to the execution place. There, he and two condemned thieves were nailed upon crosses to die. As his life ebbed away, soldiers threw dice to decide who would get the poor clothes he had been wearing.

Later, his friends claimed his body and laid it in a cave, with a huge stone rolled against the opening to seal it.

And, if this were the end of his story, we should not know his name or even what little we do know about him. In his time many men died on many crosses for the same kind of treason. And he had been preaching for only three years.

But, fortunately, that is not the end of His story. For His followers found that huge gravestone rolled away and knew that He had risen from the dead. He appeared to them and they talked with Him.

Anr then they remembered that wonderful promise that He had made to them. They passed it from heart to heart and down to us over the two thousand years which separate our time and His: "I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

The glorious message of resurrection is basic to the life of Jesus Christ and to our life as well. This is the message of Easter. It is our hope for time and eternity. "Because He lives we shall live also."

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

The Life That Did Not End

He was a country preacher who grew up in a small town. His people were not important folk; his father was a simple carpenter and his mother a village maiden. They were poor people; actually their son was born in a stable. He was born into troubled times. He was less than two weeks old when his parents had to flee the country. Quite a while passed before they could return and, even then, they had to live in a different town.

Dr. Peale

He grew up just as other boys did. Or, at least, we can guess this. All we really know about him is that he was an unusually bright child and that, when he was 12, in accordance with the custom of his religion, he was confirmed.

—:—

HE STAYED on in his home town for the next 17 years or so, living just as his friends and neighbors did. Perhaps he, too, was a carpenter. In any case, whatever he did during those years wasn't remarkable enough for anyone to take special note of.

Then, when he was almost 30, a wandering preacher, a cousin of his mother's named John, came to town, bearded and half-naked, living on what little he could find along the road. Nevertheless, John was a strong preacher and his words brought out everyone to hear him. The young carpenter came with all the rest and was baptized in the river by his cousin.

Somehow, that baptism changed him or brought him to a decision. He disappeared for almost two months. When he came back, he began to preach. He spent his next three years as a wandering preacher in the small towns and in the country. He attracted to him other poor men like himself: fishermen, sailors, farmers. Some of these traveled with him.

He was an amazing preacher with great winsomeness. And he soon became famous in the country, but this did not change his simple way of life. And when finally he decided to carry his mission to the big city, he entered it as a poor man among poor men.

HIS MISSION seemed a failure. In the end, the authorities manufactured the charge that what he preached was treason, and condemned him to death. Offered an opportunity to save him, the very crowds to which he had preached turned against him and urged that another be freed instead.

Soldiers took him to the execution place. There, he and two condemned thieves were nailed upon crosses to die. As his life ebbed away, soldiers threw dice to decide who would get the poor clothes he had been wearing.

Later, his friends claimed his body and laid it in a cave, with a huge stone rolled against the opening to seal it.

And, if this were the end of his story, we should not know his name or even what little we do know about him. In his time many men died on many crosses for the same kind of treason. And he had been preaching for only three years.

But, fortunately, that is not the end of His story. For His followers found that huge gravestone rolled away and knew that He had risen from the dead. He appeared to them and they talked with Him.

Anr then they remembered that wonderful promise that He had made to them. They passed it from heart to heart and down to us over the two thousand years which separate our time and His: "I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

The glorious message of resurrection is basic to the life of Jesus Christ and to our life as well. This is the message of Easter. It is our hope for time and eternity. "Because He lives we shall live also."

Children Of The Bible

THE BOY JESUS

"And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem . . ."

—Luke 2:43

Jesus loved His parents, but when He was twelve years old, the time had come for Mary's bidding guidance to end, for Him to be about His Father's business.

Let us reconstruct the memorable scene at the Temple. It provides the last detailed story of Jesus given us by the Gospels before His reappearance as a mature Man, ready to begin His final ministry.

Jesus had come with His parents and a large group of friends and neighbors from the village of Nazareth to Jerusalem for the Passover.

But this Spring was a special occasion for Jesus, because it was His twelfth year, and He would go through the ceremony that would make Him "a son of the Law."

It was a rite that every male member of the Hebrew faith observed at that age. Afterwards he was regarded as an adult.

The big, beautiful Temple, with its pillars, terraces and courts, was swarming with people from all over the country, who had come to Jerusalem for the Passover.

After His own confirmation ceremony was over, Jesus pushed His way through the dense crowds to the Temple's east portico, called Solomon's Porch. There, seated upon a raised dais, the learned rabbis discussed the fine points of their religion and answered questions from the passersby.

The Boy Jesus was deeply interested in their doctrinal hair-splitting. He sat down beside one of the big pillars, and leaning His head upon His hands thoughtfully, regarded them with an attitude of mixed reverence and doubt. In that moment His face seemed lighted from within by the golden radiance of Godhood.

After a time, He began to ask questions—timidly at first, then boldly.

The learned elders looked at the Lad from Nazareth in His peasant's garb—a simple tunic bound with a leather girdle. "And all that heard Him were astonished at His understanding and answers."

Here His mother found Him three days later, "sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them and asking questions."

HUMANITY CALLING!
By Major William Murtaugh of The Salvation Army

"HUMANITY'S UNFAILING FRIEND"
"My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus." Philippians 4:19
When we think of people being in need, we primarily think of them as being in need of food, clothing and shelter, and, of course, having a physical being these necessities of life are required. Christian charity constrains us to endeavor to meet these needs; however there are either great needs of which the man himself may not be aware, and, having an abundance of material things, is still in need.
Since "man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God" (Matthew 4:4), man, if he is to live completely and fully, must meditate in God's word day and night to secure the enlightenment strength and inspiration of which he has need. We are told that our own righteousness is as "filthy rags!" in the sight of God, and we need to be clothed in "the Robe of Righteousness" which He alone can provide, through His Atoning Blood on Calvary. The shelter needed by all mankind is beautifully expressed in the Bible — "For Thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy". (Psalm 61:3) All of our lasting joys and hopes may be found in Him, Who arose a Victor o'er the dark domain, and Who truly is Humanity's Unfailing Friend.

HUMANITY CALLING!

By Major William Murtaugh of The Salvation Army

"HUMANITY'S UNFAILING FRIEND"

"My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus." Philippians 4:19

When we think of people being in need, we primarily think of them as being in need of food, clothing and shelter, and, of course, having a physical being these necessities of life are required. Christian charity constrains us to endeavor to meet these needs; however there are either great needs of which the man himself may not be aware, and, having an abundance of material things, is still in need.

Since "man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God" (Matthew 4:4), man, if he is to live completely and fully, must meditate in God's word day and night to secure the enlightenment strength and inspiration of which he has need. We are told that our own righteousness is as "filthy rags!" in the sight of God, and we need to be clothed in "the Robe of Righteousness" which He alone can provide, through His Atoning Blood on Calvary. The shelter needed by all mankind is beautifully expressed in the Bible — "For Thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy". (Psalm 61:3) All of our lasting joys and hopes may be found in Him, Who arose a Victor o'er the dark domain, and Who truly is Humanity's Unfailing Friend.

Pontius Pilate Good Or Bad? Bible Leaves A Wide Choice

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

"And Pilate said unto them (the priests and Pharisees), Ye have a watch: go your way and make it as sure as ye can.

"So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch."

And that, in the words of the evangelist Matthew, is the last scriptural notice taken of one of the most controversial and least known figures in the Easter story—The Roman procurator Pontius Pilate.

Was Pilate a good man or bad?

The Bible leaves the reader a wide choice: You can sympathize with him in his weakness; you can despise him for the same fault; you can admire him for what seems to be his sympathy for Jesus.

What happened to Pilate after he fulfilled his Easter week destiny? About all that can be said for sure is that he left his post in Judea in the year 36, ostensibly recalled by the emperor.

But, like nature, tradition, legend and outright fiction all abhor vacuum. So, with a little diligent reading in the literature called "New Testament Aprocrypha", you can find out what may, or could, have happened to Pilate.

One apocryphal account has the Emperor Tiberius, angered by the worldwide darkness and earthquakes that accompanied the crucifixion, recalling Pilate to Rome for trial and condemnation.

Another story, equally apocryphal, goes like this:

The ailing Tiberius hears of Jesus' healing miracles and sends for him. The Roman emissary arrives in the Holy Land after Jesus is crucified.

Instead, Veronica — she of the veil—goes to Rome and cures the emperor's sickness with a portrait of Jesus. Tiberius sends for Pilate and sentences him to death. But Pilate cheats the executioner by stabbing himself with his own dagger.

Pontius Pilate Good Or Bad? Bible Leaves A Wide Choice

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

"And Pilate said unto them (the priests and Pharisees), Ye have a watch: go your way and make it as sure as ye can.

"So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch."

And that, in the words of the evangelist Matthew, is the last scriptural notice taken of one of the most controversial and least known figures in the Easter story —The Roman procurator Pontius Pilate.

Was Pilate a good man or bad?

The Bible leaves the reader a wide choice: You can sympathize with him in his weakness; you can despise him for the same fault; you can admire him for what seems to be his sympathy for Jesus.

What happened to Pilate after he fulfilled his Easter week destiny? About all that can be said for sure is that he left his post in Judea in the year 36, ostensibly recalled by the emperor.

But, like nature, tradition, legend and outright fiction all abhor vacuum. So, with a little diligent reading in the literature called "New Testament Aprocrypha", you can find out what may, or could, have happened to Pilate.

One apocryphal account has the Emperor Tiberius, angered by the worldwide darkness and earthquakes that accompanied the crucifixion, recalling Pilate to Rome for trial and condemnation.

Another story, equally apocryphal, goes like this:

The ailing Tiberius hears of Jesus' healing miracles and sends for him. The Roman emissary arrives in the Holy Land after Jesus is crucified.

Instead, Veronica — she of the veil—goes to Rome and cures the emperor's sickness with a portrait of Jesus. Tiberius sends for Pilate and sentences him to death. But Pilate cheats the executioner by stabbing himself with his own dagger.

Former Editor Dies

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Clarke Salmon, 67, advertising agency executive and former managing editor of the old New Orleans Item and morning Tribune, died Friday night in a hospital. Salmon, a native of Omaha, Neb., suffered a stroke March 12. At one time, he was night city editor of the Kansas City Star and director of the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn.

Pageant Due At Wellsville

An Easter pageant, "The Greatest Blessing" (Myers), will be presented Sunday at 6 a. m. at the Wellsville Central Methodist Church by the Senior Choir with Harold Driggs director.

Baptism and reception of new members will be held during the 11 a. m. worship when the Rev. William A. Hewitt will preach on "The Easter Hope." The junior sermon, "Through the Tunnel," will be given by Miss Sandra Hermand. The Senior and Chancel Choirs will sing anthems.

The Junior and Intermediate MYF groups, with Mrs. Garnet Smith and Mrs. Betty Jane Smith in charge, will present a special program Sunday night, which will include songs, recitations and exercises. A trio, Pamela and Fanny Call and Kristina Call, will sing, "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer."

A pageant, "At the Cross," will be presented by the Intermediate Group. Charles Malone will sing a number.

The last in the series on "Victorious Christian Service" will be held at prayer meeting Wednesday at 7 p. m. The theme will be "A Grand Finale."

Rector To Enter Chaplain Service

The Rev. John Roberts will preach his final sermon at St. Luke's Episcopal Church at Georgetown Sunday at 3 p. m. He is entering the Air Force.

Rev. Roberts is scheduled to report Tuesday to the Chaplain School at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex. He will take a nine-week orientation course before assuming the duties of a first lieutenant chaplain.

Communion will be administered at tomorrow's service. Mrs. Charles Finley, organist, will play "My Redeemer Liveth" (Lorenz); ter). The choir will sing "God Hath Sent His Angels" (Parker).

Hymns will be "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today," "Come Ye Faithful, Raise the Strain" and "The Strife Is O'er."

Church School will be at 10 a. m. Missionary boxes will be gathered. Treats will be presented to members.

Church Notes

The Rev. Kenneth Nottingham of the Wellsville Free Methodist Church will be speaker for daily devotions from 9 to 9:15 a. m., Monday through Friday, over WOHI.

A turtle, when it is active, can go for a day or two without breathing. And while it is hibernating, it can live for months without breathing.

Class Of Wellsville Church To Sponsor Sunrise Service

Class 16 of the Church School will sponsor an Easter sunrise service at 6:30 at the chapel of the Wellsville First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Philip H. Fletcher will sing "Open the Gates of the Temple," and Robert Dornick will sing, "Christ Arose." Tom Wilson will present a trumpet solo, "Christ Arose," with recorded background Easter music.

A tableau will be presented with Mrs. Carolyn Vogel as reader.

Mrs. Cedric Stanway will give the Easter meditation; John Haugh, the prayer; Donna Roberts, a reading on "The First Easter," and Rev. Fletcher, prayer and benediction.

The Senior Hi Class will serve the Easter breakfast in the church diningroom following the service.

The Easter morning worship will begin at 11, opening with 15 minutes of music by organ and Lyric Choir under the direction of Mrs. Louise Brookman Taylor. New members will be received.

Selections by the choir will include "Alleluja" (Mozart); "Christ Among the Lilies" (Williams), Jayne Smith Kata, soloist, and "Madgalene" (Warren), duet by Mrs. Thomas McNicol and Jayne Smith Kata.

Organ music by Mrs. Jess McLain will consist of "Hosannah" (Wachs); "In a Monastery Garden" (Ketelbey), and "Easter Recessional" (Mallard).

Other music by the Lyric Choir will include the anthem," As It Began to Dawn" (Speaks), and the solo, "The First Easter Morn" (Scott), by Barbara Bettis.

"The Victory of the Cross' will be the sermon topic.

A trio from the Lyric Choir will feature the service of the Church School at 9:45. The trio includes Mrs. Thomas McNicol, Mrs. Wilbur Terry and Mrs. Fletcher. The Easter devotion service will be presented by William J. Shoub, superintendent.

Midweek services will resume Wednesday night under the direction of the pastor.

Church Of Christ Adult Choir Will Present Cantata

The Adult Choir of the First Church of Christ will present the cantata, "No Greater Love" (Peterson), Sunday at 7:30 p. m. with Miss Betsy Eunson, director of music, in charge.

Edward Galloway will be narrator and the soloists will include Mrs. Geraldine Schneider, Mrs. Mary E. Wheeler, Mrs. Louise Applegate, Bayard Price, William Osborn, Robert Douglas, James Ruthem and Charles Palmer.

Sunrise service will be conducted at 6:30 with John N. Mostoller, the minister, giving the meditation and Miss Judy Miller as guest organist.

An Easter breakfast at 8 will be prepared by the members of the Christian Youth Fellowship.

The minister will preach on "The Power That Lifted Him" at the 10:30 worship. The Junior and Adult Choirs will sing "In Joseph's Lovely Garden" (Dickenson).

A special Easter offering will be taken at the 10:30 service for the program of ministerial relief, home missions, new church projects, evangelism and social welfare.

The Board of Elders will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. The deacons will meet at 2 p. m.

The Official Board will meet Thursday at 7:30.

Lisbon

Miss Joan Cecile Wassink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wassink of Columbiana R. D. 2, became the bride of W. Franklin Rudibaugh Sunday afternoon at the East Fairfield Methodist Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Rudibaugh of N. Market St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white taffeta gown with an elongated bodice, brief sleeves and a scalloped sweetheart neckline, embellished with sequins and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt swept to a chapel train.

Miss Sharon Wassink was maid of honor, wearing a street-length gown of blue lace over taffeta and a matching headband. Her bouquet was of yellow and white carnations.

Misses Joyce Bender and Lucy Evans were bridesmaids, wearing gowns of pink lace over taffeta, and carrying pink and white carnation bouquets.

Ronald Rudibaugh, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were John Farrington of Leetonia and Nick Holliman of Archibald.

Mrs. Wassink wore a blue crepe dress with blue and white accessories and a red rose corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue lace dress with blue and white accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds.

About 200 attended a reception in the social rooms, where a four-tiered cake topped with a miniature bridal couple centered the bride's table. Aides were Mrs. Helen Keslar, aunt of the bride; Mrs. Velma Cope, aunt of the bridegroom; Miss Joyce Keslar and Miss Carol Keslar, cousins of the bride; Miss Beverly Rudibaugh, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Janet Mollenkopf.

Guests attended from Mentor, Dayton, Chardon, Wellsville, East Liverpool, Poland, Rogers, Cambridge, Cortland, Lisbon, Salem, Leetonia and Columbiana.

The bride, a 1956 graduate of Fairfield High School, is employed at the McMillan Abstract Co. of Lisbon. Her husband, a 1955 graduate of David Anderson High School, is a senior at Kent State University. They will reside at 377 E. Lincoln Way.

Hester M. Chandler Weds In Nuptials At Morgantown

Miss Hester Marion Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Chandler, 239 Virginia Ave., Chester, wore an amethyst and diamond lavalier belonging to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. George E. Lewis, at her marriage to George H. Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hal H. Harrison of Tarentum, Pa.

The double - ring ceremony was performed Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church of Morgantown, W. Va., by the Rev. Robert E. Shields, minister.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an heirloom gown of silk bembazine and reembroidered Alencon lace. The fitted bodice featured long sleeves and a princess neckline. A matching crown of lace held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Testament topped with an arrangement of cibodium orchids, heather and satin streamers. Observing all the familiar traditions, the shilling in her shoe was the gift of Miss Sara Thomas.

Miss Jane Ann Chandler was her sister's only attendant. Her gown of green and gold changeable faille was fashioned with a bouffant skirt. She wore a matching Dior bow and accessories and carried a cascade bouquet of harvest moon carnations.

Lt. George G. Herbert, fraternity brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were William K. Harris and L. Bruce McClung, all of Morgantown.

A reception was held in the social rooms. Mrs. J. M. Murdoch, an aunt of the bride, presided at the buffet table. Aides were Miss Marnie Murdoch, cousin of the bride; Miss Gretchen Harrison, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. G. Pohlman and Misses Judy Linger, Nancy Goodh, Ann Sleeth and Mrs. Bruce McClung, sorority sisters of the bride. Miss Edith Franklin was in charge of the guest register.

MRS. GEORGE HARRISON

The bride is a graduate of Chester High School and is a senior at West Virginia University.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Tarentum High School and of Pennsylvania State University. He is wildlife education specialist for the Virginia Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, stationed at Blacksburg, Va. Commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the Army, he will report to Ft. Benning, Ga., for active duty in May.

3-In-1 Moon Rocket Roars Into 1st Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Vanguard rocket bound for an upcoming three-in-one satellite shoot roared into action Friday in a preliminary ground engine test.

At Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., however, a mighty Atlas missile undergoing a similar test exploded on the stand due to some unexplained cause, but no one was injured.

The 80-foot Atlas, which was never intended to fly during the Edwards test, performed most of its static objective before it was destroyed, the Air Force said.

On the Vanguard captive test, a workout for a launching expected within the next two weeks, the engine appeared to ignite successfully for several seconds.

In effect, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will attempt to shoot three separate satellites into orbit in the next Vanguard venture.

The components are a plastic sphere 13 inches in diameter, with an extended arm to measure the earth's magnetic fields; an expandable balloon 30 inches in diameter, used to provide more precise information on atmospheric drag; and the empty hulk of the 52-pound third stage launching rocket.

In eight launchings, with three more to go, the Vanguard twice has launched satellites into orbit successfully.

Driver Fined, Another Forfeits At Chester

One driver was fined Friday night by Mayor Burton Ward of Chester and another forfeited.

David H. Fout of Chester was fined $10 and costs for hazardous driving. He was cited after his sedan hit the side of a car driven by Hancock County Deputy Sheriff Harry Abrams of Indiana Ave. last Saturday on Carolina Ave. near 6th St.

Martin K. Edwards of Cleveland forfeited a $15.50. He was cited for failure to maintain control of his car after it rammed the rear of a car driven by Griffin Douty of Salem, who had stopped for a traffic light Sunday.

Church Choir Plans Cantata

Easter services at the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church will begin with a sunrise program at 6:30.

The Church Choir will present a cantata, "The Victorious Christ."

Sunday School will convene at 9:30, followed by the morning worship at 10:30 when the Rev. Glenn Brunstetter will use "The Stone Was Rolled Away" for his Easter theme.

33 Oklahoma Students Set 'Stuffing' Record

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Students at Oklahoma City University crammed for a telephone booth stuffing record here Friday night and claim they made it.

Egged on by disc jockey Chuck Boyles, 33 Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity brothers jammed into a phone booth on the lawn of a local radio station.

"We've made history tonight," exclaimed Boyles, but the claim may be challenged. Three or four students had only hands or feet inside the booth.

Modest (Calif.) Junior College claims the record, saying 32 scholars wedged into a booth there last week.

$50,000 Injury Trial Will Resume Monday

Trial will resume Monday in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon in a $50,000 personal injury suit over a Wellsville auto accident July 4, 1954.

Leuci Antinacci of Dillonvale is seeking the amount for injuries he claims he received when a car in which he was riding was struck by another driven by Robert L. Boyce, 1147 Main St., Wellsville. The accident was at the intersection of 17th St. and Chester Ave., Wellsville.

Antonacci was a passenger in a car driven by his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Bower. The trial started Wednesday morning before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard and adjourned Thursday because of a motion day Friday.

Forestry Management Event Reset April 8

LISBON — The forestry management meeting scheduled Friday afternoon at the United Local School woods was postponed to April 8 due to rain, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in 4-H work.

James Ball, district forester, will lead a discussion and Future Farmers of America members will give demonstrations of measuring, scaling and girdling trees and killing grape vines.

Farmers, 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America members are invited.

Truck Driver Safety Rules May Be Changed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some truck driver safety rules may be changed, says Raymond J. Kluth, acting superintendent of the state's motor transportation.

He said he will confer with his field investigators on April 13-14, talk to the Utilities Commission and possibly have a public hearing on the rules.

He cited the rule prescribing carbon tetrachloride fire extinguishers in trucks as one that needed changing. He said the chemical is toxic when used in close quarters, such as a truck cab.

Child Injured In Fall; Another Suffers Scalds

James Buchanan, 11, son of Harley Buchanan of Lincoln Ave., fractured his left arm in a fall while playing.

Karen Scott, 1½ daughter of O. E. Scott, 2202 Harvey Ave., suffered second degree scalds of the feet and an ankle when a hot pot of coffee fell on her.

Suit Seeks $58,073

LISBON — Charles F. Griffen of Alliance filed suit for $58,073 in Common Pleas Court Friday against Leonard W. Pearce of Damascus, claiming personal injuries and damages as the result of an auto-truck crash April 3, 1957, on Route 62 about a mile west of Salem.

Twice As Hot Above Arctic Than Earth's Warmer Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's twice as hot high above the cold Arctic than at equal altitudes over warmer parts of the earth, scientists have learned.

This phenomenon—made public Friday—has helped scientists visualize one of the world's newest discoveries, the Van Allen radiation belts that hover miles above the earth.

More than 100 miles above Churchill, Manitoba, in northern Canada readings of 4,000 degrees fahrenheit have been recorded—more than 20 times the heat of boiling water.

But at similar heights above White Sands New Mexico, the highest temperature recorded has been about 2,000 degrees.

Dr. Jastrow said the difference depends on the shape of the Van Allen radiation belts. Instead of circling the earth uniformly, they tend to bend toward the earth at the poles. In fact, they may not cover the poles at all, he said.

Over the Arctic and Antarctic, Dr. Jastrow explained, high energy particles from the belts apparently collide with the few air molecules at an altitude of 125 miles. This causes intense heating. But over the rest of the earth, the Van Allen belts are too high for their particles to collide with air molecules. No extra heat results.

Movie Actor Grant Withers Takes His Life

Detectives said he had been dead about 24 hours when his landlord discovered him. He had swallowed an overdose of sleeping tablets and there were two notes explaining his act. He was 55.

When actress Loretta Young was 17, she and Withers eloped by airplane to Yuma, Ariz. Her mother met the plane as they arrived back and started annulment proceedings. That was the end of their honeymoon.

"Oh, I'm so sorry," she said as she was told of the death when she returned from Good Friday church services.

"It's better this way; thanks to my friends, sorry I let them down," read one of Withers' notes. "I was so unhappy."

He had been married five times.

In 1954 Withers almost died from an overdose of probanthine tablets, used for treatment of ulcers. Financial difficulties piled up on him and overdue bills dogged him right up to his death.

Sheriff Back On Air

LISBON — The sheriff's two-way radio was back in operation two hours after being knocked out Friday at 10 a. m. by a bolt of lightning during an electrical storm. A technician completed repairs about noon yesterday, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

lighted steel cross to be installed atop 1,030-foot Bald Knob hill at Alto Pass. A crowd of 6,000 is expected.

Mountain amphitheaters will be the setting for services for some 30,000 near Colorado Springs and Denver, Colo.

During the week a helicopter lifted a new cross to the summit of Mt. Rubidoux near Riverside, Calif. It will be in place in time for Sunday services, replacing one burned last fall by vandals.

Methodist Bishop John Wesley Lord will conduct services for more than 12,000 worshipers at the famed Cathedral of the Pines, a national arboreal shrine for all faiths near Rindge, N.H.

For the 18th Easter in a row, Marion, Ind., will stage a community pageant, and thousands are expected to mark the holy day at services atop Mt. Davidson at San Francisco and Halfdome in Yosemite National Park.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts Easter paraders will have sunny skies, or at worst, cloudiness, in much of the nation. There may be rain in central areas of the country, according to the forecast, and the mountains of Colorado and Wyoming may see snow flurries.

Back From Japan

HOMEWORTH — Cpl. James D. Montler, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Montler, has returned to the Marine Corps Air Station at Kaneohe Bay Hawaii, with aircraft group 13 after five months duty at the Naval Air Station in Atsugi, Japan. The three squadrons were transferred to Atsugi during the Quemoy crisis last year.

50 Summoned As Prospective Grand Jurors

A venire of 50 prospective jurors has been summoned for the April Grand Jury, which will be convened April 7 at 9 a. m.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard will preside for the April term of court, which will be officially opened at noon, April 6, with a dinner of the Columbiana County Bar Association at the Presbyterian Church at Lisbon followed by election of officers. Atty. Francis Lang of East Liverpool, president, will preside. The prospective jurors include:

3-In-1 Moon Rocket Roars Into 1st Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Vanguard rocket bound for an upcoming three-in-one satellite shoot roared into action Friday in a preliminary ground engine test.

At Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., however, a mighty Atlas missile undergoing a similar test exploded on the stand due to some unexplained cause, but no one was injured.

The 80-foot Atlas, which was never intended to fly during the Edwards test, performed most of its static objective before it was destroyed, the Air Force said.

On the Vanguard captive test, a workout for a launching expected within the next two weeks, the engine appeared to ignite successfully for several seconds.

In effect, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will attempt to shoot three separate satellites into orbit in the next Vanguard venture.

The components are a plastic sphere 13 inches in diameter, with an extended arm to measure the earth's magnetic fields; an expandable balloon 30 inches in diameter, used to provide more precise information on atmospheric drag; and the empty hulk of the 52-pound third stage launching rocket.

In eight launchings, with three more to go, the Vanguard twice has launched satellites into orbit successfully.

Driver Fined, Another Forfeits At Chester

One driver was fined Friday night by Mayor Burton Ward of Chester and another forfeited.

David H. Fout of Chester was fined $10 and costs for hazardous driving. He was cited after his sedan hit the side of a car driven by Hancock County Deputy Sheriff Harry Abrams of Indiana Ave. last Saturday on Carolina Ave. near 6th St.

Martin K. Edwards of Cleveland forfeited a $15.50. He was cited for failure to maintain control of his car after it rammed the rear of a car driven by Griffin Douty of Salem, who had stopped for a traffic light Sunday.

Church Choir Plans Cantata

Easter services at the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church will begin with a sunrise program at 6:30.

The Church Choir will present a cantata, "The Victorious Christ."

Aid Program Proposed For West Virginia

WASHINGTON (AP) — A small scale works progress administration program for depressed areas was proposed today as one means of aiding economic recovery in West Virginia.

Also proposed for West Virginia distress relief and economic aid by Sens. Robert C. Byrd and Jennings Randolph, West Virginia Democrats, were revival of the Young Conservation Corps and a step up in road construction.

The proposals were submitted by the senators to Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Randolph and Byrd told Johnson they hope the suggested objectives can be included among the legislative goals of the Democratic leadership at this session.

Other proposals included:

1. Passage of the Byrd - Randolph Emergency Foods Bill to improve the diets of persons receiving government surplus foods.

2. Construction work on several West Virginia dam and waterway projects already authorized by Congress but not yet voted construction money.

3. A start on six West Virginia National Guard armories already planned.

4. More money to the National Forest Service to permit jobs in national forest work in West Virginia. The senators estimated possible hiring of 1,000 or 2,000 men.

5. Provide 130 million dollars for school construction in West Virginia by passage of a school support bill.

6. A plan to give depressed areas preference in the construction of post offices.

7. A coal research program.

8. Import quotas or restrictive tariffs to aid glass and pottery industries.

9. Passage of the Byrd-Randolph bill to waive temporarily corporate income taxes for new firms hiring more than 200 workers.

10. Passage of the Byrd-Randolph bill to lower the voluntary locating in depressed areas and Social Security retirement age to 60.

11. Preference to depressed areas in the locating of military installations.

12. Preference to depressed areas in letting government procurement contracts.

Motorists Told Watch Stop Signs To Avoid Crashes

East Liverpool's traffic accident rate will be cut if motorists can be educated to better compliance with intersection stop signs and red blinkers, which also require a full halt before proceeding, Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi said today.

The chief said he has instructed officers to enforce the law strictly on "stop" violations, because what appears to be a harmless offense can lead to death or heavy property damage if the offender pulls into the path of another auto.

"Both stop signs and red blinkers mean the motorist approaching an intersection must come to a full halt before proceeding, he said. "It is not enough to slow the car and continue without a full halt."

The chief cited a crash in East End Thursday as an example of a mishap caused by one driver's failure to yield the right-of-way to another.

Police also have been instructed to crack down on motorists driving with only one headlight, the chief said.

"The approach of good spring weather means an increase in the traffic volume," he said. "Driving a hazardous vehicle in heavy traffic adds to the possibility of a crash."

Hancock's 40 & 8 Fetes Youngsters

Some 150 orphans and indigent children of Hancock County were feted at the annual Easter party of the County 40 & 8 Society Thursday night in the Chester American Legion home.

After a ham dinner, the children were treated to an hour of entertainment, including dance selections by Joan Haught and Billy McKnight, both of Chester.

Among guests were Dave Thomas and William C. Graham, county commissioners; William Paolisso, county probation officer; Miss Jacquelyn Good and Mrs. Edith Evans, of the Department of Public Assistance; Mrs. Mary Ann Harrison, of the Health Department, Arnie Durham and Radar Stanley, sheriff's deputies, and J. V. Hughes of Wellsville, grand historian of the Ohio voiture of the 40 & 8.

Faces Shooting Charge

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Mary Williams, 33, accused of firing a shot at a fireman who put out a burning cushion on her davenport, is scheduled to appear in court next Friday on a charge of shooting to wound. She was released Friday after posting $1,000 bond. Police said she had a record of arrests dating back to 1947, including eight for intoxication.

Circus Has Won Space Race As Midget Is 'Shot To Moon'

Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey shot a midget to the moon Friday night from a launching pad in Madison Square Garden — scoring a beat on all the world's anxious scientists.

The clown act, developed by Paul Jung, was part of the fun and razzle-dazzle circus clientele have come to expect. The 13,500 in the large arena were not disappointed.

This is a circus which put the accent not on tinsel, but on the timing of tight-rope walkers. The gaudy glitter of some circuses of the past is held to a minimum, although a lavish procession of "beauties of all ages" is given featured play.

Jugglers perform suspended by their teeth or hair, the unlikeliest of Miss Americas parades in a shocking pink bathing suit and 15 clowns of all sizes and shapes pile from Lou Jacobs' auto, the last clown beating a large yellow drum.

There is the inevitable bow to the spectacular as Edmundo Zacchini shoots two daughters out of a cannon. And the crowd holds its breath as Harold Alzana dances and skips rope along the high wire.

Alzana walks with a limp. He fell 20 feet on opening night last year, fracturing a leg and wrist. Last week he was hit by a truck in Trenton, N.J.

Among the new acts are 32 lady pirates, scantily clad in costumes of dazzling purple, green and white, who duel with electric swords 25 feet above ground, and the three Dior Sisters balancing rolling globes up and down steep grades.

PTA Assigns Carnival Work

Committee chairmen have been named for a carnival of the Jefferson Parent - Teacher Association planned April 17 in the school at Newell.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brennemen are co-chairmen of the event, being held to raise funds to send patrol boys on a trip to the nation's capital and purchase additional shrubbery for the school and supplementary material for classrooms.

All chairmen will meet Wednesday, April 8 at 7:30 p. m. in the school to complete final plans.

Miss Dorothy Talbott, ministrel; Mrs. Walter Collins, prizes; Mrs. Clyde Arnott and Mrs. Patrick Smith, talent show; Mrs. Clarence Nease and Mrs. Crawford Haynes, fish pond.

Mrs. Paul Finley, checkroom; Albert Logston, darts; Thomas McElroy, popcorn sale; Mrs. Paul Mosher, publicity; George Vukas, balloon sale; Mrs. Paul Rayburn and Mrs. Arthur Daugherty, baked goods sale; George Gogol, clean-up, and Miss Ethel Moore, parcel post.

GOP Eyes Limit Of 3 Months For Extra Jobless Pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A limit of three months for extra jobless benefits will be sought by Republicans, House minority leader Roger Cloud (R-Logan) said Friday.

Monday night a House vote will be taken on a Democrat-sponsored bill, with an emergency clause, to extend the extra benefit time through Dec. 26. The emergency clause is designed to give the extra 13 weeks to persons exhausting their regular 26-week benefits next Saturday.

Cloud said the minority Republicans favored an extension in line with a three-month provision passed by Congress. Jobless benefit claims in Ohio are now about half those of a year ago.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle estimated the extension to Dec. 29 would cost about 23 million dollars for the state unemployment compensation fund. The original extension, voted by Legislature in special session last summer, was estimated to cost 50 million dollars through next Saturday.

Storage Tank Concern To Erect Chester Unit

Plans are being drawn for a 10,000 - barrel storage tank on the Transportation & Storage Development Co. site in Chester, William L. McEldowney of Pittsburgh, president of the firm, said today

Construction of the tank is slated this summer, but a preliminary survey by George Bloomgren, East Liverpool engineer, has not been completed and the contract for the construction has not been let, McEldowney said.

The firm purchased the 12-acre site of the former American Sheet & Tinplate Co. in December 1957. The storage tank and any others to be built will hold industrial chemicals and other liquid materials brought up the Ohio River for use by area firms.

The Chester Lions Club, which meets in a brick building on the site, has been granted permission to continue to use the building until notified by the firm.

New Manager Announced At Stevenson Co.

The appointment of Dick Van Eerden as general manager of the Stevenson Co. at Wellsville was announced today by Max Isaacson, company president.

Prior to assuming his new duties, Van Eerden had been district sales manager for the company in the Philadelphia area. Before joining Stevenson, he had been assistant sales manager with International Engineering, Inc., at Dayton.

Van Eerden was owner of the CHEMAP company in Amsterdam, Holland, before coming to the United States in 1957. The Dutch concern manufactured mixing equipment and high - pressure vessels.

He was graduated in chemical engineering and mechanical engineering while in Holland.

He is married and the father of three children. His wife and children, now residing in Philadelphia, will move to Wellsville shortly.

Ike At His Farm For Easter Hopes For Golf Weather

Earlier the President and his wife had attended Good Friday church services after he had worked for a while on two foreign policy speeches he will make next week.

On Thursday in Washington he will address the opening session of the 10th anniversary meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council.

A week from today he will speak at Gettysburg College's spring convocation. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the college speech will be an important one on the international situation.

IBOP Slates Exhibit For Union Label Show

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today it will enter a working exhibit at the 50th anniversary Union Label Industries Show scheduled to open May 1 in Brooks Hall in the San Francisco Civic Center.

The potters' display, always one of the features of the exhibit, will be manned by IBOP members demonstrating the crafts and skills of their trade. The IBOP has participated in the annual show for many years.

The show is staged each year in a different city under the sponsorship of the Union Label and Service Trades Department of the AFL-CIO. There will be hundreds of displays of union made goods and union services. Gifts and souvenirs worth more than $80,000 will be awarded to persons attending the free show.

Anchorage Greets Michigan '59ers

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — This booming city was in complete surrender today to a weary but happy band of modern pioneers who call themselves the Michigan 59ers.

The 37 men, women and children who came from the Detroit area in a 5,000-mile trek to a new life on this new state's Kenai Peninsula rolled into town Friday.

With them were 7 dogs — no other pets—and 5 strangers they picked up along the way.

Their 17 cars and trucks, 6 house trailers and 2 cargo trailers were packed to overflowing with all of their worldly possessions, including tools with which to carve a living from the wilderness.

There was a noisy escort from the outskirts of Anchorage to City Hall, where the 59ers stepped up a red carpet to a greeting by Mayor Hewitt Lounsbury and other dignataries.

There was a wonderful feast at a modern restaurant and there was friendship all around them.

The homesteaders will remain together in a cooperative venture on the Kenai, 224 miles from here. They will pool all of their resources, their tools, their labor and their yield.

Aid Program Proposed For West Virginia

WASHINGTON (AP) — A small scale works progress administration program for depressed areas was proposed today as one means of aiding economic recovery in West Virginia.

Also proposed for West Virginia distress relief and economic aid by Sens. Robert C. Byrd and Jennings Randolph, West Virginia Democrats, were revival of the Young Conservation Corps and a step up in road construction.

The proposals were submitted by the senators to Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Randolph and Byrd told Johnson they hope the suggested objectives can be included among the legislative goals of the Democratic leadership at this session.

Other proposals included:

1. Passage of the Byrd - Randolph Emergency Foods Bill to improve the diets of persons receiving government surplus foods.

2. Construction work on several West Virginia dam and waterway projects already authorized by Congress but not yet voted construction money.

3. A start on six West Virginia National Guard armories already planned.

4. More money to the National Forest Service to permit jobs in national forest work in West Virginia. The senators estimated possible hiring of 1,000 or 2,000 men.

5. Provide 130 million dollars for school construction in West Virginia by passage of a school support bill.

6. A plan to give depressed areas preference in the construction of post offices.

7. A coal research program.

8. Import quotas or restrictive tariffs to aid glass and pottery industries.

9. Passage of the Byrd-Randolph bill to waive temporarily corporate income taxes for new firms hiring more than 200 workers.

10. Passage of the Byrd-Randolph bill to lower the voluntary locating in depressed areas and Social Security retirement age to 60.

11. Preference to depressed areas in the locating of military installations.

12. Preference to depressed areas in letting government procurement contracts.

Motorists Told Watch Stop Signs To Avoid Crashes

East Liverpool's traffic accident rate will be cut if motorists can be educated to better compliance with intersection stop signs and red blinkers, which also require a full halt before proceeding, Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi said today.

The chief said he has instructed officers to enforce the law strictly on "stop" violations, because what appears to be a harmless offense can lead to death or heavy property damage if the offender pulls into the path of another auto.

"Both stop signs and red blinkers mean the motorist approaching an intersection must come to a full halt before proceeding, he said. "It is not enough to slow the car and continue without a full halt."

The chief cited a crash in East End Thursday as an example of a mishap caused by one driver's failure to yield the right-of-way to another.

Police also have been instructed to crack down on motorists driving with only one headlight, the chief said.

"The approach of good spring weather means an increase in the traffic volume," he said. "Driving a hazardous vehicle in heavy traffic adds to the possibility of a crash."

Hancock's 40 & 8 Fetes Youngsters

Some 150 orphans and indigent children of Hancock County were feted at the annual Easter party of the County 40 & 8 Society Thursday night in the Chester American Legion home.

After a ham dinner, the children were treated to an hour of entertainment, including dance selections by Joan Haught and Billy McKnight, both of Chester.

Among guests were Dave Thomas and William C. Graham, county commissioners; William Paolisso, county probation officer; Miss Jacquelyn Good and Mrs. Edith Evans, of the Department of Public Assistance; Mrs. Mary Ann Harrison, of the Health Department, Arnie Durham and Radar Stanley, sheriff's deputies, and J. V. Hughes of Wellsville, grand historian of the Ohio voiture of the 40 & 8.

Faces Shooting Charge

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Mary Williams, 33, accused of firing a shot at a fireman who put out a burning cushion on her davenport, is scheduled to appear in court next Friday on a charge of shooting to wound. She was released Friday after posting $1,000 bond. Police said she had a record of arrests dating back to 1947, including eight for intoxication.

Circus Has Won Space Race As Midget Is 'Shot To Moon'

Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey shot a midget to the moon Friday night from a launching pad in Madison Square Garden — scoring a beat on all the world's anxious scientists.

The clown act, developed by Paul Jung, was part of the fun and razzle-dazzle circus clientele have come to expect. The 13,500 in the large arena were not disappointed.

This is a circus which put the accent not on tinsel, but on the timing of tight-rope walkers. The gaudy glitter of some circuses of the past is held to a minimum, although a lavish procession of "beauties of all ages" is given featured play.

Jugglers perform suspended by their teeth or hair, the unlikeliest of Miss Americas parades in a shocking pink bathing suit and 15 clowns of all sizes and shapes pile from Lou Jacobs' auto, the last clown beating a large yellow drum.

There is the inevitable bow to the spectacular as Edmundo Zacchini shoots two daughters out of a cannon. And the crowd holds its breath as Harold Alzana dances and skips rope along the high wire.

Alzana walks with a limp. He fell 20 feet on opening night last year, fracturing a leg and wrist. Last week he was hit by a truck in Trenton, N.J.

Among the new acts are 32 lady pirates, scantily clad in costumes of dazzling purple, green and white, who duel with electric swords 25 feet above ground, and the three Dior Sisters balancing rolling globes up and down steep grades.

GOP Eyes Limit Of 3 Months For Extra Jobless Pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A limit of three months for extra jobless benefits will be sought by Republicans, House minority leader Roger Cloud (R-Logan) said Friday.

Monday night a House vote will be taken on a Democrat-sponsored bill, with an emergency clause, to extend the extra benefit time through Dec. 26. The emergency clause is designed to give the extra 13 weeks to persons exhausting their regular 26-week benefits next Saturday.

Cloud said the minority Republicans favored an extension in line with a three-month provision passed by Congress. Jobless benefit claims in Ohio are now about half those of a year ago.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle estimated the extension to Dec. 29 would cost about 23 million dollars for the state unemployment compensation fund. The original extension, voted by Legislature in special session last summer, was estimated to cost 50 million dollars through next Saturday.

Storage Tank Concern To Erect Chester Unit

Plans are being drawn for a 10,000 - barrel storage tank on the Transportation & Storage Development Co. site in Chester, William L. McEldowney of Pittsburgh, president of the firm, said today

Construction of the tank is slated this summer, but a preliminary survey by George Bloomgren, East Liverpool engineer, has not been completed and the contract for the construction has not been let, McEldowney said.

The firm purchased the 12-acre site of the former American Sheet & Tinplate Co. in December 1957. The storage tank and any others to be built will hold industrial chemicals and other liquid materials brought up the Ohio River for use by area firms.

The Chester Lions Club, which meets in a brick building on the site, has been granted permission to continue to use the building until notified by the firm.

New Manager Announced At Stevenson Co.

The appointment of Dick Van Eerden as general manager of the Stevenson Co. at Wellsville was announced today by Max Isaacson, company president.

Prior to assuming his new duties, Van Eerden had been district sales manager for the company in the Philadelphia area. Before joining Stevenson, he had been assistant sales manager with International Engineering, Inc., at Dayton.

Van Eerden was owner of the CHEMAP company in Amsterdam, Holland, before coming to the United States in 1957. The Dutch concern manufactured mixing equipment and high - pressure vessels.

He was graduated in chemical engineering and mechanical engineering while in Holland.

He is married and the father of three children. His wife and children, now residing in Philadelphia, will move to Wellsville shortly.

Ike At His Farm For Easter Hopes For Golf Weather

Earlier the President and his wife had attended Good Friday church services after he had worked for a while on two foreign policy speeches he will make next week.

On Thursday in Washington he will address the opening session of the 10th anniversary meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council.

A week from today he will speak at Gettysburg College's spring convocation. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the college speech will be an important one on the international situation.

IBOP Slates Exhibit For Union Label Show

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today it will enter a working exhibit at the 50th anniversary Union Label Industries Show scheduled to open May 1 in Brooks Hall in the San Francisco Civic Center.

The potters' display, always one of the features of the exhibit, will be manned by IBOP members demonstrating the crafts and skills of their trade. The IBOP has participated in the annual show for many years.

The show is staged each year in a different city under the sponsorship of the Union Label and Service Trades Department of the AFL-CIO. There will be hundreds of displays of union made goods and union services. Gifts and souvenirs worth more than $80,000 will be awarded to persons attending the free show.

Anchorage Greets Michigan '59ers

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — This booming city was in complete surrender today to a weary but happy band of modern pioneers who call themselves the Michigan 59ers.

The 37 men, women and children who came from the Detroit area in a 5,000-mile trek to a new life on this new state's Kenai Peninsula rolled into town Friday.

With them were 7 dogs — no other pets—and 5 strangers they picked up along the way.

Their 17 cars and trucks, 6 house trailers and 2 cargo trailers were packed to overflowing with all of their worldly possessions, including tools with which to carve a living from the wilderness.

There was a noisy escort from the outskirts of Anchorage to City Hall, where the 59ers stepped up a red carpet to a greeting by Mayor Hewitt Lounsbury and other dignataries.

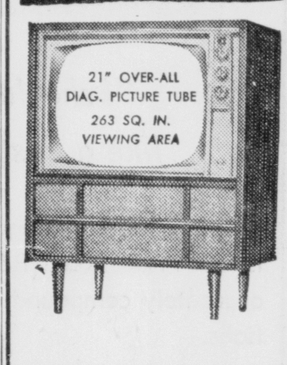

There was a wonderful feast at a modern restaurant and there was friendship all around them.

Finals Set Tonight In Nonpareil, Jaycee Tournaments

SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 1959 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 11

Pennsylvania Stars Dot Junior Tourney Teams

Pennsylvania teams will dominate the semi - final action tonight as the 12th annual Nonpareil Club tournament winds up its three - day stay at Memorial Auditorium.

Three of the four teams hail from the Keystone state — Eason Insurance (Aliquippa and New Brighton), Swissvale and Uniontown.

The lone Ohio squad has a Midland sponsor in Gengarellas. The team is comprised of the Youngstown Chaney varsity and Woody Deitch of the Salem Quakers.

Action will get under way at 7, with the four semi-finalists drawing to see which bracket plays the first game. The games will be sandwiched and the second contest will get under way at 7:30.

The six include Joe Maddrey, Cal Sheffield and Beane who will be performing for the Eason five, Byrnes of Swissvale and Sam Sims and Don Ferrell of the Uniontown entry.

Maddrey was accorded "player of the year" honors in Section 3, where he scored 486 points for the season. And his 44 markers in one game set a new school record at Aliquippa.

Gaining identical honors were Sheffield of New Brighton in Section 8, where he averaged 21 points a game.

Performing for Gengarellas will be Deitch, who was given second-team All - Ohio honors, along with Ron Sabo, an honorable mention choice.

Maddrey, the scoring champion a year ago, tallied 33 points in the game, but trails Fulmer of Swissvale, who has scored 42 points in two games and Zilko of Swissvale with 34.

Team trophies and individual awards, including, most valuable player, best foul shot and high point man, will be presented following tonight's final game.

Little League Issues Urgent Call For Umps

An urgent call for umpires was issued today by officials of the East Liverpool Little League. Although the season doesn't open until May 25, league officials said a large roster is wanted so they can be sure of sufficient umpires for the season. Anyone interested should contact Ralph Crowe, umpire - in - chief, at FU 5-1746.

SAFE AT THIRD. Bobby Richardson (1) of the New York Yankees appears to be a dead duck as Kansas City's catcher Frank House (12) chases him with ball in their game Friday, but House waited too long to throw to third baseman Dick Williams and Richardson slid back to third safely. A's won, 5-2. (UPI Telephoto)

Kennedy's, Johnny's To Clash At Wellsville

A high - socring game is in prospect for the championship attraction, which will pit a tall Johnny's Lunch entry against the experienced Chuck Kennedy squad at 9:30 at Beacom Memorial Gym.

Both teams gained the finals by surpassing the century mark while triumphing in the semi - finals, Johnny's stomping Maple Lane of Steubenville, 115 to 71, and the motor entry lacing Radio WMOD of Moundsville, 106 to 82.

Sandwiched between the two tilts will be an appearance of the Dover Basketeers, scheduled to take the floor at 9 to the strains of "Sweet Georgia Brown." A group of grade school youngsters, they go through antics similar to those of the world famous Harlem Globetrotters.

Johnny's Lunch is led by towering Gus Johnson, a 6-6 pivot man who was graduated last year from Akron Central High School, and Dick Dennis of Kent Roosevelt High School and later Kent State University.

Johnson has proven to be one of the tourney's top attractions with his "stuff" shots, where he leaps high into the air and rams the ball through the hoop. Dennis shoots from far out and hit a record - breaking 43 points in the semi - finals. Dennis is the tournament's second leading scorer with 76 points in three games.

Chuck Kennedy's roster includes cagers who are far from being strangers in championship games of area tournaments.

Among them are Frank Chan and Larry Romboski of Washington & Jefferson College, John Riser of the University of Pittsburgh, Bob Bingham of Wellsville and the Boston Whirlwinds and Bob Bickle, Jim Potts, George Hale, Jim Hadley and Joe Anderson of East Liverpool.

The motor entry figures to be strengthened greatly with the expected appearance of either Youngstown University's Herb Lake, 6-5, or Jamie Kimbrough of Indiana State Teachers.

Romboski, Chan and Bingham have been the big guns in Kennedy's march through 30 teams to the finals, with Romboski scoring 51 points, Chan 49 and Bingham 45.

The tournament's leading scorer — McCoy of the Moundsville entry — has accumulated 77 points in four games. Tom Yancy of Welcome Cafe, bounced by Johnny's Lunch in the quarter - finals, is third leading scorer with 64 points.

The Jaycee organization will award 54 trophies at the climax of the championship game. Peter's Insurance (Grove City College) won the 1957 tournament. Chuck Kennedy's was named to the all-tournament team in 1957, while Bickle was the player "with the most points."

Herb Score Appears 'Key' To Indians' 1959 Hopes

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have swung a lot of deals since last fall, but there's another reason to suspect this could be a changed team.

Pitcher Herb Score is back.

Whether the return of this potentially great lefthander will be enough to get the Indians out of the bottom of the first division is unknown. But it seems safe to say he won't be an insufferable burden.

There have been other changes, too:

Outfielder Larry Doby, pitchers Ray Narleski and Don Mossi, first baseman Vic Wertz and infielder-outfielder - catcher Earl Averill have been traded. And infielder Billy Martin, outfielders Jim Piersall and Jim Bolger, first baseman-outfielder Tito Francona and pitchers Al Cicotte and John Briggs have been acquired.

So where do the Indians stand?

"If we've got Score back," said Manager Joe Gordon, "and we can use (Gary) Bell from the start, we're bound to be better."

Score, out most of the last two seasons with injuries, has not been phenomenal in exhibition games. But he's throwing without any pain.

Bell came up last May and won 12 games while losing 10. "He had some bad luck," Gordon said. "He could easily have been 14-6."

Other possible starters include Cal McLish (16-8), Jim Grant (10-11), Don Ferrarese (3-4), Mike Garcia (1-0) and Cicotte (3-1 with Detroit).

Gordon's lineup would include Rocky Colavito and Minnie Minoso in the outfield and Vic Power at first or third base. If Power plays first, Gordon might use Randy Jackson at third. If not, Mickey Vernon or Francona could take first.

George Strickland is bidding for shortstop along with Woodie Held. At second are Martin and Bill Moran. Russ Nixon should do most of the catching again. Piersall could be used between Minoso and Colavito in the outfield. Francona also could be played in the outfield.

Reds Get Third Full Game In Row As Purkey Turns Back Phils, 12-1

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A 4-1 victory over St. Louis on Wednesday as Orlando Pena goes the nine-inning distance on a five-hitter. A 2-1 victory over Los Angeles Thursday on a complete game seven-hitter from Brooks Lawrence. And now a 12-1 whipping of Philadelphia as Bob Purkey matches Pena and Lawrence with a five-hit job.

Three complete games, low hit victories back to back—and this for a club supposed to be long no power and short on pitching. Every manager should have the kind of pitching "shorts" Mayo Smith seems to have.

The Reds' victory came at Tampa, Fla., in the feature of a Good Friday exhibition baseball program limited to three games. At Fort Myers, Fla., the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 and at St. Petersburg, Fla., ex-Yankee Whitey Herzog slammed four hits and led Kansas City to a 5-2 decision over New York.

R. C. Smith, Bennie Daniels and Joe Gibbon combined on a five-hitter for the Pirates, who broke a 3-3 tie to beat St. Louis after two were out in the eighth inning.

Joe Adcock Doesn't Want To Be Traded

BRADENTON, Fla., (AP)—Joe Adcock doesn't want to be traded. The Milwaukee first baseman isn't angry at anybody. He likes his manager, Fred Haney. But Joe isn't happy.

"I don't want to sit on the bench," Joe complained today. "I don't like playing one day and sitting on the bench the next. I can't do either myself or the team justice playing part time. I know I'm a better ball player when I play every day."

The record backs Joe up.

In 1956, the 6-4 slugger from Coushatta, La., batted .291, slammed 38 home runs and drove in 103 runs in 137 games. In 1957, alternating with the left-handed hitting Frank Torre, Adcock batted .287, hit 12 homers and drove in 38 runs in 65 games. A broken leg sidelined him for a number of weeks. Joe slumped to .275 in 105 games last year, hitting 19 homers and driving in 54 runs.

"I tore a ligament in my knee and couldn't play at all last year," Joe explained. "When I got back to the lineup I couldn't swing a bat right."

Adcock hasn't seen much action this spring. For one thing, he was a late signer. For another, the rainy weather has kept the exhibition games down to a minimum.

"I know their plans are for me to play against left-handed pitching only," said Joe. "But I'm not happy about the situation. I want to play every day. And I'm a first baseman, not an outfielder. It's tough to stay in shape shuttling in and out of the lineup."

Wellsville FOP To Sponsor Pro Wrestling Show Friday

Stars of TV wrestling will appear in person during an all - star show next Friday at 8 p. m. at Beacom Memorial Gym, Wellsville.

The show is being sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Police and Police Associates. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of new equipment.

The show will be headlined by a team of midgets, with Fuzzy Cupid and Irish Jackie opposing Tiny Tim and Farmer McGregor in a tag team match. All bouts will be the best two of three falls.

A Japanese star, Oyama Kato, will wrestle Indian Chief White Owl, who will appear as the "villain" in a semi - final bout.

Gomes Wins, Eyes Title Go

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Harold Gomes, a sturdy little belter who doesn't know when to stop belting, has hopes of a title shot, or at least a place among the top 10 featherweights.

The little man from Providence, R.I., Friday night spotted the No. 2 contender, Paul Jorgensen of Port Arthur, Tex., two pounds and won a unanimous decision in the 10-round nationally televised bout at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

Promoter Chris Dundee said before the fight he had been in contact with Willie Ketchum, manager of the new champion, Davey Moore, concerning the possibility of a title bout in midsummer for the winner of Friday night's affair.

Coffin, Sikes Clash For Seniors Golf Title

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Bruce Coffin of Marblehead, Mass. and Leon Sikes of West Palm Beach, two "youngsters" in the American Seniors Golf Assn. Tournament, meet for the title today.

Coffin at 56 is making his first appearance in the tourney for amateurs 55 and over. Sikes at 57 is competing for the third time. He won it two years ago in his first try.

Ohioan 4th In Golf

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Athens, Ohio, fired a 36-37—73 to tie with six others for fourth place in the first round of the $15,000 Azela Open Golf Tournament Friday.

73 Qualifying Tests To Pick Open Field

NEW YORK (AP)—It will take 73 qualifying competitions to determine the 150-man field which will vie this year for the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

The U.S. Golf Assn. issued a blueprint today for its new plan of a double series of playoffs, all at 36 holes. The first series is scheduled in mid-May—59 of them May 18 and another at Chicago May 19.

The second series at 13 strategic centers is slated for June 1. The open will be played at Winged Foot in Mamaroneck, N.Y., June 11-13.

The 72-hole championship will carry a record purse for professionals, totaling $40,000.

Hawks, Celts Set To Grab Playoff Leads

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Hawks and the Boston Celtics will take the lead today in the National Basketball Assn. divisional playoffs if the home court trend continues.

The Hawks and Minneapolis Lakers are all-square at 2-2 in their best-of-seven series for the Western division playoff title. So are the Celtics and the Syracuse Nationals in their battle for the Eastern division championship.

So far each team has won twice on its home court. Today's games are at St. Louis and Boston, with the latter scheduled for televised treatment (NBC) at 3 p.m. EST. The sixth game of both series will be played Sunday at Minneapolis and Syracuse.

If the Lakers are to break through tonight they must get top point production from Elgin Baylor and Dick Garmaker, both of whom have been hot at Minneapolis but something less than sensational at the Hawks' court.

The Hawks also are looking for Bob Pettit, the NBA scoring champ, to break out of what is a slump for him. He has averaged only 26.8 points against a regular season record of 29.2. Cliff Hagan has been the Hawks' big gun of the series with a 33.5 point average.

The Celtics have won twice at the Boston Garden by 22 points. At Syracuse they lost by two and 12 points.

The 1949 Clemson Tigers were unbeaten when they played in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville. Clemson beat Missouri 24-23 that year.

Eason's set a new tournament scoring record Thursday night in a 102-34 victory over Chambers Co.

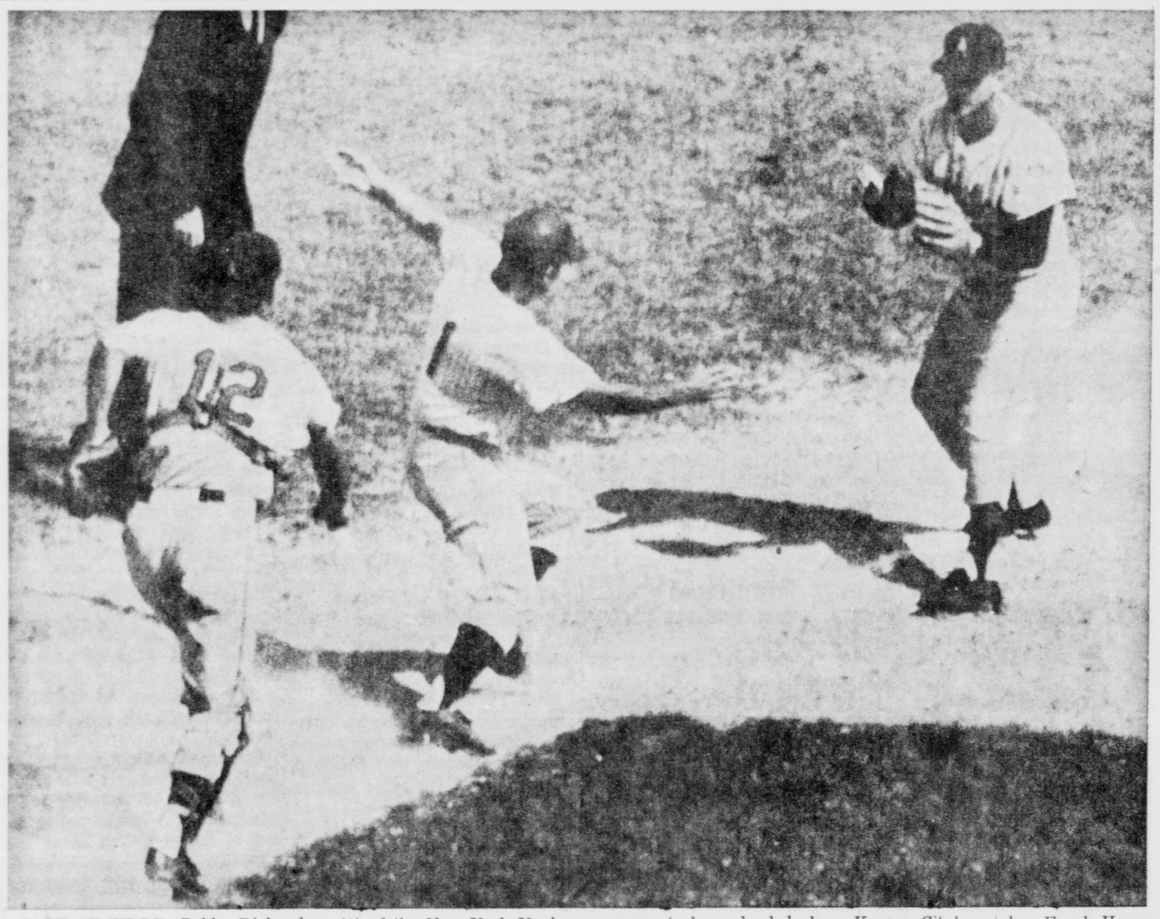

Maddrey, the scoring champion a year ago, tallied 33 points in the game, but trails Fulmer of Swissvale, who has scored 42 points in two games and Zilko of Swissvale with 34.

Maddrey's 33 has been the best individual performance of the tourney. Deitch shows the second highest mark with 27 against Canton Presbyterian Thursday.

Team trophies and individual awards, including, most valuable player, best foul shot and high point man, will be presented following tonight's final game.

Herb Score Appears 'Key' To Indians' 1959 Hopes

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have swung a lot of deals since last fall, but there's another reason to suspect this could be a changed team.

Pitcher Herb Score is back.

Whether the return of this potentially great lefthander will be enough to get the Indians out of the bottom of the first division is unknown. But it seems safe to say he won't be an insufferable burden.

There have been other changes, too:

Outfielder Larry Doby, pitchers Ray Narleski and Don Mossi, first baseman Vic Wertz and infielder-outfielder - catcher Earl Averill have been traded. And infielder Billy Martin, outfielders Jim Piersall and Jim Bolger, first baseman-outfielder Tito Francona and pitchers Al Cicotte and John Briggs have been acquired.

So where do the Indians stand?

"If we've got Score back," said Manager Joe Gordon, "and we can use (Gary) Bell from the start, we're bound to be better."

Score, out most of the last two seasons with injuries, has not been phenomenal in exhibition games. But he's throwing without any pain.

Bell came up last May and won 12 games while losing 10. "He had some bad luck," Gordon said. "He could easily have been 14-6."

Other possible starters include Cal McLish (16-8), Jim Grant (10-11), Don Ferrarese (3-4), Mike Garcia (1-0) and Cicotte (3-1 with Detroit).

Gordon's lineup would include Rocky Colavito and Minnie Minoso in the outfield and Vic Power at first or third base. If Power plays first, Gordon might use Randy Jackson at third. If not, Mickey Vernon or Francona could take first.

George Strickland is bidding for shortstop along with Woodie Held. At second are Martin and Bill Moran. Russ Nixon should do most of the catching again. Piersall could be used between Minoso and Colavito in the outfield. Francona also could be played in the outfield.

Reds Get Third Full Game In Row As Purkey Turns Back Phils, 12-1

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A 4-1 victory over St. Louis on Wednesday as Orlando Pena goes the nine-inning distance on a five-hitter. A 2-1 victory over Los Angeles Thursday on a complete game seven-hitter from Brooks Lawrence. And now a 12-1 whipping of Philadelphia as Bob Purkey matches Pena and Lawrence with a five-hit job.

Three complete games, low hit victories back to back—and this for a club supposed to be long no power and short on pitching. Every manager should have the kind of pitching "shorts" Mayo Smith seems to have.

The Reds' victory came at Tampa, Fla., in the feature of a Good Friday exhibition baseball program limited to three games. At Fort Myers, Fla., the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 and at St. Petersburg, Fla., ex-Yankee Whitey Herzog slammed four hits and led Kansas City to a 5-2 decision over New York.

R. C. Smith, Bennie Daniels and Joe Gibbon combined on a five-hitter for the Pirates, who broke a 3-3 tie to beat St. Louis after two were out in the eighth inning.

Joe Adcock Doesn't Want To Be Traded

BRADENTON, Fla., (AP)—Joe Adcock doesn't want to be traded. The Milwaukee first baseman isn't angry at anybody. He likes his manager, Fred Haney. But Joe isn't happy.

"I don't want to sit on the bench," Joe complained today. "I don't like playing one day and sitting on the bench the next. I can't do either myself or the team justice playing part time. I know I'm a better ball player when I play every day."

The record backs Joe up.

In 1956, the 6-4 slugger from Coushatta, La., batted .291, slammed 38 home runs and drove in 103 runs in 137 games. In 1957, alternating with the left-handed hitting Frank Torre, Adcock batted .287, hit 12 homers and drove in 38 runs in 65 games. A broken leg sidelined him for a number of weeks. Joe slumped to .275 in 105 games last year, hitting 19 homers and driving in 54 runs.

"I tore a ligament in my knee and couldn't play at all last year," Joe explained. "When I got back to the lineup I couldn't swing a bat right."

Adcock hasn't seen much action this spring. For one thing, he was a late signer. For another, the rainy weather has kept the exhibition games down to a minimum.

"I know their plans are for me to play against left-handed pitching only," said Joe. "But I'm not happy about the situation. I want to play every day. And I'm a first baseman, not an outfielder. It's tough to stay in shape shuttling in and out of the lineup."

Wellsville FOP To Sponsor Pro Wrestling Show Friday

Stars of TV wrestling will appear in person during an all - star show next Friday at 8 p. m. at Beacom Memorial Gym, Wellsville.

The show is being sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Police and Police Associates. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of new equipment.

The show will be headlined by a team of midgets, with Fuzzy Cupid and Irish Jackie opposing Tiny Tim and Farmer McGregor in a tag team match. All bouts will be the best two of three falls.

A Japanese star, Oyama Kato, will wrestle Indian Chief White Owl, who will appear as the "villain" in a semi - final bout.

Lou Klein, a longtime favorite among the television audience, will be featured in the main event against the Tulsa Terror, Indian Chief Yakki Joe.

Gomes Wins, Eyes Title Go

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Harold Gomes, a sturdy little belter who doesn't know when to stop belting, has hopes of a title shot, or at least a place among the top 10 featherweights.

The little man from Providence, R.I., Friday night spotted the No. 2 contender, Paul Jorgensen of Port Arthur, Tex., two pounds and won a unanimous decision in the 10-round nationally televised bout at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

There were no knockdowns, but it was a bruising battle which left both men exhausted. Jorgensen weighed 132½.

Promoter Chris Dundee said before the fight he had been in contact with Willie Ketchum, manager of the new champion, Davey Moore, concerning the possibility of a title bout in midsummer for the winner of Friday night's affair.

Coffin, Sikes Clash For Seniors Golf Title

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Bruce Coffin of Marblehead, Mass. and Leon Sikes of West Palm Beach, two "youngsters" in the American Seniors Golf Assn. Tournament, meet for the title today.

Coffin at 56 is making his first appearance in the tourney for amateurs 55 and over. Sikes at 57 is competing for the third time. He won it two years ago in his first try.

Although "youth" won its way to the final, Coffin had to come up with a mighty effort to knock 75-year-old William Diddel of Indianapolis out of the running.

Ohioan 4th In Golf

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Athens, Ohio, fired a 36-37—73 to tie with six others for fourth place in the first round of the $15,000 Azela Open Golf Tournament Friday.

73 Qualifying Tests To Pick Open Field

NEW YORK (AP)—It will take 73 qualifying competitions to determine the 150-man field which will vie this year for the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

The U.S. Golf Assn. issued a blueprint today for its new plan of a double series of playoffs, all at 36 holes. The first series is scheduled in mid-May—59 of them May 18 and another at Chicago May 19.

The second series at 13 strategic centers is slated for June 1. The open will be played at Winged Foot in Mamaroneck, N.Y., June 11-13.

The 72-hole championship will carry a record purse for professionals, totaling $40,000.

Hawks, Celts Set To Grab Playoff Leads

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Hawks and the Boston Celtics will take the lead today in the National Basketball Assn.' divisional playoffs if the home court trend continues.

The Hawks and Minneapolis Lakers are all-square at 2-2 in their best-of-seven series for the Western division playoff title. So are the Celtics and the Syracuse Nationals in their battle for the Eastern division championship.

So far each team has won twice on its home court. Today's games are at St. Louis and Boston, with the latter scheduled for televised (NBC) at 3 p.m. EST. The sixth game of both series will be played Sunday at Minneapolis and Syracuse.

If the Lakers are to break through tonight they must get top point production from Elgin Baylor and Dick Garmaker, both of whom have been hot at Minneapolis but something less than sensational at the Hawks' court.

The Hawks also are looking for Bob Pettit, the NBA scoring champ, to break out of what is a slump for him. He has averaged only 26.8 points against a regular season record of 29.2. Cliff Hagan has been the Hawks' big gun of the series with a 33.5 point average.

The Celtics have won twice at the Boston Garden by 22 points. At Syracuse they lost by two and 12 points.

Both teams are at full strength. Dolph Schayes, the Nats' scoring ace, has recovered from an injured right foot.

The 1949 Clemson Tigers were unbeaten when they played in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville. Clemson beat Missouri 24-23 that year.

2 WVU Stars To Appear In All-Star Game

By The Associated Press

Two West Virginia University players and Marshall College's Leo Byrd will appear tonight in college all-star basketball games at Kansas City and Raleigh, N. C.

All-American Jerry West, who sparked the WVU Mountaineers into the finals of the NCAA tournament last Saturday night to climax the school's winningest court season on record, will play for the East squad in the eighth annual Shrine East-West contest at Kansas City.

Byrd, second team All-America at the Huntington college and No. 2 major college scorer for 1958-59, will be on Joe Lapchick's North team in the game at Raleigh's Reynolds Coliseum.

The second North-South game will include an outstanding array of college talent, with Everett Case of North Carolina State handling the South.

Besides West, the East squad at Kansas City will have All-Americas Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Kentucky's Johnny Cox. Bob Boozer of Kansas State, another All-America choice, will play for the West.

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, the other first team All-America selection, will play for the South at Raleigh.

Sandlot Baseball Star To Be Buried Monday

SALEM — Paul Stratton of Warren, a native of Salem and former sandlot baseball star, died at Youngstown Friday morning following a three - month illness. He was 44.

Mr. Stratton was a member of the G. M. McKelvey team of Youngstown that won the National Amateur Federation championship several years ago. He played on teams in the area for several years. The past three seasons he had managed Little League clubs in Warren.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Arbaugh - Pearce Funeral Home at Salem.

Vertex 8-5 Favorite In Memorial Handicap

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—Vertex was an 8-5 favorite and top weighted at 124 pounds today for the $100,000-added John B. Campbell Memorial Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth.

If all 11 entries start, the gross purse will be $117,150 and the winner's net share $75,147.50. Oddsmakers figured Vertex's stiffest competition was likely to come from Oligarchy, Backbone, Hare Raising or Pete's Folly.

There are 63,360 inches in a mile.

Delany Choice To Capture Mile Trophy

CHICAGO (AP) — There seems little doubt miler Ron Delany will score his third straight victory and retire the Bankers mile trophy tonight in the Chicago Relays.

The question is:

Delany, seeking his 34th consecutive mile triumph, set the world mark on the same track last year with a 4:03.4. He has since lowered it twice by winning in the National AAU in 4:02.5 Feb. 21 and in the Knights of Columbus meet in 4:01.4 three weeks ago.

Should the Irish great succeed in winning the event, he'll become the third runner to retire the Bankers trophy. The others were Don Gehrmann and Gil Dodds.

Another world record holder competing before a sellout crowd of 10,000 will be Don Bragg, the pole vaulting champion. Bragg, also a graduate of Villanova, vaulted 15 feet, 9¼ inches last month to set the world mark. He won nine meets in a row before being beaten in Cleveland last week by Eeles Landstrom of Michigan. Bragg failed to clear 14-4 and Landstrom went over at 14-9¾.

In addition to Delany and Bragg, there will be a host of Olympic stars and national champions competing.

400 Forest Fires Reported In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio has experienced about 400 forest fires in the past 10 days, the state forestry division says.

Robert B. Redett, forester-in-charge of the division's protection section, said the usual figure for the closing days of March is about 280 fires. Fires since March 19 have destroyed four or five thousand acres.

Trash burning causes about 90 per cent of spring fires, Redett explained, and carleless smokers are also a problem.

"We always have some fires of incendiary origin," Redett went on. "They're set out of plain meanness, or by psychopathic people who like to see fires for some reason. But there has been no particular rash lately."

So far, he said, the area involved is in east and southeast Ohio, generally within a line from East Liverpool to Canton, then south to Loudonville, Newark, the area south of Lancaster, Chillicothe, Hillsboro and straight south along the west edge of Adams County.

$6.049 Jump Reported For County's Sales Tax

Sales tax collections in Columbiana County totaled $27,567 in the week ending March 14, an increase of $6,049 from the $21,518 shown in the corresponding week of 1958, State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson said today at Columbus.

The recent trend has been steadily upward but it was the biggest weekly gain reported in several months. On a statewide basis, the tax collections were up 10 per cent in the week ending March 14, compared with the same week of 1958.

Collections since the start of the fiscal year last July 1 total $1,271,120, down $88,413 from the $1,359,533 during the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year.

Man Killed In Akron Bar; His Cousin Held

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An argument in a bar led to the shotgun slaying of Charles C. Wilson, 43, and police are holding his second cousin, J. B. Sanders, 32, but have not yet filed any charges.

Police said Wilson went to Sanders' home Friday night after the bar dispute and threatened Sanders with a shotgun. Other persons in Sanders' house took Wilson outside, the detectives added, but Sanders got his own shotgun and followed. On the street Wilson was struck in the chest with a shotgun charge and he died early today in St. Thomas Hospital.

2 WVU Stars To Appear In All-Star Game

By The Associated Press

Two West Virginia University players and Marshall College's Leo Byrd will appear tonight in college all-star basketball games at Kansas City and Raleigh, N. C.

All-American Jerry West, who sparked the WVU Mountaineers into the finals of the NCAA tournament last Saturday night to climax the school's winningest court season on record, will play for the East squad in the eighth annual Shrine East-West contest at Kansas City.

Byrd, second team All-America at the Huntington college and No. 2 major college scorer for 1958-59, will be on Joe Lapchick's North team in the game at Raleigh's Reynolds Coliseum.

The second North-South game will include an outstanding array of college talent, with Everett Case of North Carolina State handling the South.

Besides West, the East squad at Kansas City will have All-Americas Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Kentucky's Johnny Cox. Bob Boozer of Kansas State, another All-America choice, will play for the West.

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, the other first team All-America selection, will play for the South at Raleigh.

Sandlot Baseball Star To Be Buried Monday

SALEM — Paul Stratton of Warren, a native of Salem and former sandlot baseball star, died at Youngstown Friday morning following a three - month illness. He was 44.

Mr. Stratton was a member of the G. M. McKelvey team of Youngstown that won the National Amateur Federation championship several years ago. He played on teams in the area for several years. The past three seasons he had managed Little League clubs in Warren.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Arbaugh - Pearce Funeral Home at Salem.

Vertex 8-5 Favorite In Memorial Handicap

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—Vertex was an 8-5 favorite and top weighted at 124 pounds today for the $100,000-added John B. Campbell Memorial Handicap at a mile and a sixteenth.

If all 11 entries start, the gross purse will be $117,150 and the winner's net share $75,147.50. Oddsmakers figured Vertex's stiffest competition was likely to come from Oligarchy, Backbone, Hare Raising or Pete's Folly.

There are 63,360 inches in a mile.

Delany Choice To Capture Mile Trophy

CHICAGO (AP) — There seems little doubt miler Ron Delany will score his third straight victory and retire the Bankers mile trophy tonight in the Chicago Relays.

The question is:

Delany, seeking his 34th consecutive mile triumph, set the world mark on the same track last year with a 4:03.4. He has since lowered it twice by winning in the National AAU in 4:02.5 Feb. 21 and in the Knights of Columbus meet in 4:01.4 three weeks ago.

Should the Irish great succeed in winning the event, he'll become the third runner to retire the Bankers trophy. The others were Don Gehrmann and Gil Dodds.

Another world record holder competing before a sellout crowd of 10,000 will be Don Bragg, the pole vaulting champion. Bragg, also a graduate of Villanova, vaulted 15 feet, 9¼ inches last month to set the world mark. He won nine meets in a row before being beaten in Cleveland last week by Eeles Landstrom of Michigan. Bragg failed to clear 14-4 and Landstrom went over at 14-9¾.

In addition to Delany and Bragg, there will be a host of Olympic stars and national champions competing.

400 Forest Fires Reported In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio has experienced about 400 forest fires in the past 10 days, the state forestry division says.

Robert B. Redett, forester-in-charge of the division's protection section, said the usual figure for the closing days of March is about 280 fires. Fires since March 19 have destroyed four or five thousand acres.

Trash burning causes about 90 per cent of spring fires, Redett explained, and carleless smokers are also a problem.

"We always have some fires of incendiary origin," Redett went on. "They're set out of plain meanness, or by psychopathic people who like to see fires for some reason. But there has been no particular rash lately."

So far, he said, the area involved is in east and southeast Ohio, generally within a line from East Liverpool to Canton, then south to Loudonville, Newark, the area south of Lancaster, Chillicothe, Hillsboro and straight south along the west edge of Adams County.

$6,049 Jump Reported For County's Sales Tax

Sales tax collections in Columbiana County totaled $27,567 in the week ending March 14, an increase of $6,049 from the $21,518 shown in the corresponding week of 1958, State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson said today at Columbus.

The recent trend has been steadily upward but it was the biggest weekly gain reported in several months. On a statewide basis, the tax collections were up 10 per cent in the week ending March 14, compared with the same week of 1958.

Collections since the start of the fiscal year last July 1 total $1,271,120, down $88,413 from the $1,359,533 during the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year.

Man Killed In Akron Bar; His Cousin Held

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An argument in a bar led to the shotgun slaying of Charles C. Wilson, 43, and police are holding his second cousin, J. B. Sanders, 32, but have not yet filed any charges.

Police said Wilson went to Sanders' home Friday night after the bar dispute and threatened Sanders with a shotgun. Other persons in Sanders' house took Wilson outside, the detectives added, but Sanders got his own shotgun and followed. On the street Wilson was struck in the chest with a shotgun charge and he died early today in St. Thomas Hospital.

Juvenile Court Gets Extortion Case Of City Boy

A 15-year-old East End youth, apprehended a week ago after attempting to extort $500 from the wife of a physician, will be given a hearing Monday afternoon before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin in Lisbon.

The Pennsylvania Ave. youngster was arraigned Monday before U. S. Commissioner William Dornan in Youngstown and bound to the Federal Grand Jury under a $5,000 bond for violating the federal juvenile delinquency act.

The boy was nabbed by police and FBI agents Saturday night after he picked up a paper sack containing phony money dropped by Mrs. J. Keith Rugh, 1112 Ohio Ave.

He was placed on four months' probation in February after he and a companion were arrested for burglarizing Bob's Sports Shop on Pennsylvania Ave., taking two high - powered rifles, shells and money.

Mayor At Wellsville Fines 5 In Patrol Cases

Four East Liverpool motorists and one from Wellsville were fined at hearings Thursday before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville on charges filed by the State Highway Patrol.

Local drivers fined were Marvin Allen of Shadyside Ave., $15 and costs for driving without a muffler; Clarence E. Wright of R. D., $20 and costs for driving without an operator's permit; Paul Stauffer of Orchard Grove Ave., $15 and costs for speeding, and Ernest Mason of McKinnon Ave., $15 and costs for speeding.

William Thompson, 1421 Main St. Wellsville, also was fined $5 and costs for speeding.

Juvenile Court Gets Extortion Case Of City Boy

A 15-year-old East End youth, apprehended a week ago after attempting to extort $500 from the wife of a physician, will be given a hearing Monday afternoon before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin in Lisbon.

The Pennsylvania Ave. youngster was arraigned Monday before U. S. Commissioner William Dornan in Youngstown and bound to the Federal Grand Jury under a $5,000 bond for violating the federal juvenile delinquency act.

His case later was referred to local authorities for prosecution.

The boy was nabbed by police and FBI agents Saturday night after he picked up a paper sack containing phony money dropped by Mrs. J. Keith Rugh, 1112 Ohio Ave.

In a note to Mrs. Rugh, he had demanded $500, threatening harm to her children and her home unless she carried out his instructions.

He was placed on four months' probation in February after he and a companion were arrested for burglarizing Bob's Sports Shop on Pennsylvania Ave., taking two high - powered rifles, shells and money.

An Ageless Answer

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Women are women even in politics. Ten of the 100 members of the Colorado Legislature are women. Four of the 10 refused to fill in every blank on their biographical sketch sheets. The four omitted one blank, the same one . . . that asking their age.

Mayor At Wellsville Fines 5 In Patrol Cases

Four East Liverpool motorists and one from Wellsville were fined at hearings Thursday before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville on charges filed by the State Highway Patrol.

Local drivers fined were Marvin Allen of Shadyside Ave., $15 and costs for driving without a muffler; Clarence E. Wright of R. D., $20 and costs for driving without an operator's permit; Paul Stauffer of Orchard Grove Ave., $15 and costs for speeding, and Ernest Mason of McKinnon Ave., $15 and costs for speeding.

William Thompson, 1421 Main St. Wellsville, also was fined $5 and costs for speeding.

Christianity was introduced by Chinese converts into Korea in 1777.

Pughtown Man New Head Of School Unit

The West Virginia Association of County School Boards Friday elected Dr. W. Dale Williams of Pughtown as president to succeed Mrs. Rosalie S. Detch of Lewisburg.

Dr. Williams was elevated from the first vice presidency. The election closed the association's annual three - day meeting in Wheeling, along with a meeting of the State Association of County School Superintendents.

Dr. Williams is also president of the Hancock County Board of Education.

The big ads you have been seeing on the new SELECT-O-SPEED transmission for Ford have been telling you of its wonders. Well I'm telling you fellows it's the thing we have been hoping for, but never thought possible. You have 10 gears forward and 2 in reverse to select from. Shift anytime to any gear to suit the load. No stopping or grinding gears. Just hook it up and go. You also have 545 and 1000 gears on the P.T.O. plus ground level P.T.O. speed With all these outstanding features this new Ford tractor is still priced way below anything in its competition. Come and see this tractor work the first chance you get and you'll see what I mean.
Out-right sale or trade in, we promise you the best deal to be had anywhere.

The big ads you have been seeing on the new SELECT-O-SPEED transmission for Ford have been telling you of its wonders. Well I'm telling you fellows it's the thing we have been hoping for, but never thought possible. You have 10 gears forward and 2 in reverse to select from. Shift anytime to any gear to suit the load. No stopping or grinding gears. Just hook it up and go. You also have 545 and 1000 gears on the P.T.O. plus ground level P.T.O. speed With all these outstanding features this new Ford tractor is still priced way below anything in its competition. Come and see this tractor work the first chance you get and you'll see what I mean.
Out-right sale or trade in, we promise you the best deal to be had anywhere.

A HOME AT ITS BEST

Try to visualize a 2 story, 3 bedroom home that has not been remodeled—but REBUILT. This home has all new copper plumbing, a gas hot-water furnace with radiator covers throughout, a newly plastered entire first floor—which consists of a large living-room and dining room, both of which are luxuriously carpeted plus a completely new kitchen and dinette. The kitchen is complete with Marolite walls, formica sink top, garbage disposal, serving bar, and a built-in leatherette bench and formica topped table also new Anderson picture windows, and a downstairs powder room with Marolite throughout and American Standard fixtures. The second floor has 3 large bedrooms, and a complete new bath, again finished in Marolite with colored fixtures by American Standard. There is a finished third floor room suitable for storage or living quarters, a glassed-in sunporch, and top quality finished hardwood floors throughout the whole home. This is a picture of what we would like to show you. A nice back yard with a footer and floor, of what can be finished into a 20x30 foot garage, or can be left as is for the boys basketball court. SOUND GOOD? Call us and see for yourself.

A HOME AT ITS BEST

Try to visualize a 2 story, 3 bedroom home that has not been remodeled—but REBUILT. This home has all new copper plumbing, a gas hot-water furnace with radiator covers throughout, a newly plastered entire first floor—which consists of a large living-room and dining room, both of which are luxuriously carpeted plus a completely new kitchen and dinette. The kitchen is complete with Marolite walls, formica sink top, garbage disposal, serving bar, and a built-in leatherette bench and formica topped table also new Anderson picture windows, and a downstairs powder room with Marolite throughout and American Standard fixtures. The second floor has 3 large bedrooms, and a complete new bath, again finished in Marolite with colored fixtures by American Standard. There is a finished third floor room suitable for storage or living quarters, a glassed-in sunporch, and top quality finished hardwood floors throughout the whole home. This is a picture of what we would like to show you. A nice back yard with a footer and floor, of what can be finished into a 20x30 foot garage, or can be left as is for the boys basketball court. SOUND GOOD? Call us and see for yourself.

GOP Surprises Governor With Attack Upon Budget

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

But he admits the Republican legislative leaders did just that when they let go a barrage of blows at his "lump sum" budget last week.

He gave two reasons for his surprise at the blast from Senate Minority Leader C. Stanley Mechem and House Minority Leader Roger Cloud:

VARIOUS legislative studies over the years, including some conducted by the GOP, have urged repeatedly a change in the traditional itemized budget.

FOUNDATION for the present program-type appropriation bill was lead by the administration of former Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Too Late To Reverse

Finance Director James Maloon said he merely completed the superstructure after he took office. Besides the fact he favors the new approach, he added, it would have been too time-consuming to reverse the procedure already started.

The finance chief may have been more perplexed by the GOP attack than the governor was.

When he first appeared before the House Finance Committee for a preliminary review of the budget two weeks ago, Maloon started out by explaining that a switch had been made to a new form recommended by fiscal experts.

Both the governor and his fiscal aide have declared, however, they will not fight with the legislators about it. If the lawmakers insist on an itemized appropriation bill, they'll get one.

Will Be Disappointed

The chief executive made it clear he will be disappointed if that happens.

For one thing, the new budget form represents another phase of his battle to tighten up administrative control and efficiency in the operation of Ohio government.

"In business," DiSalle told newsmen, "if management had to go to the board of directors for approval of every expenditure, it would be hopelessly bogged down."

As for the Republican charge that the new form threatens legislative control of spending, the governor claims it doesn't have any firmer grasp on the purse strings now.

If a department wants to shift money from one account to another, it merely goes to the Board of Control, which he said approves 3,000 to 4,000 such transfers a year.

Wants Experience

The governor indicated he feels the criticism was premature and unjustified for another reason.

"We wanted to get some experience with this thing in the next two years and then return more detail to the program-type bill for the following biennium," he said.

As an afterthought on the whole rhubarb, DiSalle confided that it illustrates one of his pet peeves: A new administration just doesn't have enough time to do a thorough job on its first budget.

The Magic Of 16

A member of the Senate Taxation Committee asked that question of Maloon the other day in the first hearing on the bill that would, among other things, re-impose a 1-cent tax on items priced between 16 and 41 cents.

One penny is the smallest amount you can collect. On sales below 34 cents, the penny amounts to more than the 3 per cent level the tax is aimed at. Below 16 cents, however, it is deemed by experts to be positively prohibitive.

"On a 10-cent sale, for instance, a penny tax is 10 per cent," Maloon pointed out.

Pretty obvious, but how many people would have thought of it?

Republican Is Willing

Before they were granted Senate approval of their combined bill to increase the number of courts in their counties, Democratic Sens. Danny D. Johnson of New Philadelphia and Eugene J. Sawicki of Cleveland, both lawyers, had to endure a bit of friendly heckling from their colleagues on their political aspirations.

First, Sen. Charles J. Carney of Youngstown, a fellow Democrat, rose to ask Johnson, former Tuscarawas County prosecutor, if it would be correct to assume that the latter wanted to run for the new judgeship himself.

If so, Carney said, he feared that passage of the bill would serve only to deprive the majority of one of its members at the next session.

At which point Sen. Wiliam H. Deddens of Cincinnati, a Republican veteran, rose to say that since both the Democratic sponsors might well run for the new bench seats, he would strongly and with great pleasure vote for the measure!

New Combination

Rep. Edward W. DeChant (D-Lorain) the other day pulled one of those bloopers that destroy a speaker's self-confidence but give everybody else a good laugh.

Rising to honor a visiting delegation in the House gallery, he announced in booming voice over the public address system that he wanted to introduce 63 members of the "Ohio Farm Bureau Federation of Labor."

Group Will Hear Woodside's Head

LISBON — Dr. Charles Waltner, new superintendent of Woodside Receiving Hospital in Youngstown, will be the guest speaker at the annual dinner and business meeting of the Columbiana County Mental Health association at the Wick Hotel April 16. His topic will be "New Concepts in Psychiatry."

A native of Hungary, Dr. Waltner is a graduate of the University of Budapest Medical School. He studied neuropsychiatry at Columbia University and is certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

Prior to going to Woodside as a physician, Dr. Waltner served on the medical staffs of Massillon State Hospital and Mount Pleasant State Hospital in Iowa.

Reservations for the baked chicken dinner must be made at the hotel by April 15. It will be served at 6:15 p. m. Atty. Bryce Kendall of Salem, president of the association, will preside.

Good Friday Aspects Cited

"The religious day shows the anxiety surrounding us, shows God's pursuit of man, and makes us show our true colors," the pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church said.

"The anxiety is revealed as we picture ourselves among the crowd at the Cross," the minister said, commenting, "Man grasps for God but fails to hang on."

"Churches are as much to blame as parents. If a man goes wrong morally, he is almost pushed from the church. Actually, the church should be understanding and aid him in seeing the right way," Rev. Beighley said.

2nd Reading Scheduled Income Tax Legislation

City Council will meet in special session Monday night at 7:45 to give the second of three required readings to an ordinance levying a municipal income tax amounting to 60 cents on each $100. It was given first reading, 6-1, last Monday.

The legislation is scheduled for enactment at three meetings a week apart and without an emergency clause, which will leave the way open for any opposing individual or group to seek a referendum at the polls in November by circulating a petition within 30 days before the ordinance becomes effective. Final passage is expected April 6.

If a referendum is sought, no tax will be collected pending the decision at the polls. Although "personal privilege" — remarks from the floor — is not part of the normal agenda at a special session, members of the audience will be permitted to speak. Councilman George E. Willshaw, president pro tem, will preside in the absence of B. E. Warner, president, who will be attending a business meeting in Cleveland.

Hunting Films Shown For Midland DeMolays

Films of hunting trips to the Western States, Canada and Alaska were screened by Sheriff John Hineman, guest speaker, at the meeting of Unity Chapter of the DeMolay Wednesday night in the Masonic lodge rooms at Midland.

Bill LeMasters, master counselor, presided.

Plans were made for a box social May 9 in the old gym at Midland High School. Proceeds will be used to finance the trip of three officers to Erie for the DeMolay conference.

The annual dinner will be held June 6 with parents and friends as guests. Final plans will be announced later.

The DeMolay basketball team will play the Fidelity Chapter in Crafton April 18. The Mothers Circle will provide transportation. Chapter members are welcome to attend.

The next meeting is Wednesday.

Cleveland Man, 71, Killed In Hit-Run

CLEVELAND (AP) — A car traveling at a high rate of speed struck and killed a 71-year-old man here Friday night, police reported. The car fled the scene.

Dead was John Svedeki of Cleveland. Svedeki, thrown 10 feet by the impact of the car, died two hours after the accident.

The legislation is scheduled for enactment at three meetings a week apart and without an emergency clause, which will leave the way open for any opposing individual or group to seek a referendum at the polls in November by circulating a petition within 30 days before the ordinance becomes effective. Final passage is expected April 6.

If a referendum is sought, no tax will be collected pending the decision at the polls. Although "personal privilege" — remarks from the floor — is not part of the normal agenda at a special session, members of the audience will be permitted to speak. Councilman George E. Willshaw, president pro tem, will preside in the absence of B. E. Warner, president, who will be attending a business meeting in Cleveland.

Hunting Films Shown For Midland DeMolays

Films of hunting trips to the Western States, Canada and Alaska were screened by Sheriff John Hineman, guest speaker, at the meeting of Unity Chapter of the DeMolay Wednesday night in the Masonic lodge rooms at Midland.

Bill LeMasters, master counselor, presided.

Plans were made for a box social May 9 in the old gym at Midland High School. Proceeds will be used to finance the trip of three officers to Erie for the DeMolay conference.

The annual dinner will be held June 6 with parents and friends as guests. Final plans will be announced later.

The DeMolay basketball team will play the Fidelity Chapter in Crafton April 18. The Mothers Circle will provide transportation. Chapter members are welcome to attend.

The next meeting is Wednesday.

Cleveland Man, 71, Killed In Hit-Run

CLEVELAND (AP) — A car traveling at a high rate of speed struck and killed a 71-year-old man here Friday night, police reported. The car fled the scene.

Dead was John Svedeki of Cleveland. Svedeki, thrown 10 feet by the impact of the car, died two hours after the accident.

TUES., MAR. 31

E. O. M. Shoppers Will Save AND HERE'S WHY--

Good merchants like good housekeepers must clean house regularly . . . we're not talking about tidiness, that goes without saying . . . it's our stock, the things we have to offer our customers that needs constant watching to keep it fresh and in top quality. That is where E.O.M. SALES serve both the store and the customer well.

Once each month East Liverpool merchants have agreed to an E.O.M. (End of Month) SALE to clear their shelves and racks of merchandise quickly to make room for new stock. E.O.M. Sales will mean big savings to shoppers who are looking for outstanding bargains—as their reward in helping East Liverpool stores make room for new arrivals. It will be top-quality from regular stock, sometimes one or more of an item—sometimes complete assortments of sizes, styles and colors.

Come to East Liverpool Tuesday, March 31, for the first E.O.M. SALE and your substantial savings will make you a regular E.O.M. fan.
